Welcome to the Department of English, University of Dhaka. This handbook offers you an introduction to the Department and provides you with detailed information and guidelines about courses offered, teaching faculty, student facilities and other relevant information about student life in the Department.

FIND US
Office Room # 2084 and 2085 (First floor)
Arts Building, University of Dhaka, Dhaka-1000, Bangladesh
Phone: PABX: 9661920-59, Ext. 6045 & 6046; Fax: 8615583, mobile: 01706077762
E-mail: chairenglishdu@du.ac.bd
Welcome to the Department of English, University of Dhaka. This handbook offers you an introduction to the Department and provides you with detailed information and guidelines about courses offered, teaching faculty, student facilities and other relevant information about student life in the Department.

CONTENTS

Short History of the Department 04
From the Pages of History 05
The English Department Today 06
Heads of the Department (1921-1972) 09
Chairpersons since 1973 10
Faculty 11
Office Staff 25
Degrees Offered 29
Seminar Libraries 30
Student Support 31
Awards, Scholarships and Stipends 32
Student Clubs 33
Sports 34
English Department Alumni Society (EDAS) 35
Academic Misconduct 37
Projects 38
Centre for English Teaching and Research (CETR) 39
Spectrum 40
MA Programme Structure 44
MA in Literature Programme 45
MA in Applied Linguistics and ELT Programme 81
Photo Gallery 110
The English Department of the University of Dhaka is one of the core departments of the institution. Set up in 1921, its mission from the beginning has been to establish itself as the chief centre of English Studies in this part of the world and to produce graduates who are highly skilled in the English language and who have absorbed the great tradition of writing in English encapsulated in the classics of English, American, South-Asian, African and Caribbean literature. The Department also considers its mission to produce graduates who can wield the language effectively in a competitive world to advance themselves as well as the nation towards progress and prosperity without losing sight of the humanizing nature of English Studies.
Mission Statement

The English Department of the University of Dhaka is one of the core departments of the institution. Set up in 1921, its mission from the beginning has been to establish itself as the chief centre of English Studies in this part of the world and to produce graduates who are highly skilled in the English language and who have absorbed the great tradition of writing in English encapsulated in the classics of English, American, South-Asian, African and Caribbean literature. The Department also considers its mission to produce graduates who can wield the language effectively in a competitive world to advance themselves as well as the nation towards progress and prosperity without losing sight of the humanizing nature of English Studies.
SHORT HISTORY OF THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of English at the University of Dhaka has a long and distinguished history. It was one of the first twelve departments that the university started with on July 1, 1921. Students and teachers of the Department of English contributed in establishing and developing the nation’s cultural and literary landscape and their names have a place in Bangladesh’s history. Lila Nag, a student of this Department, was the first woman graduate of the University of Dhaka. Famous literary geniuses like Buddhadev Bose and Munier Chowdhury have graduated from the department.

In the seventies and eighties teachers like Professor Kabir Chowdhury, Professor Serajul Islam Choudhury, Professor Ahsanul Haque, Professor Husniara Haq and Professor Razia Khan Amin made great contributions in the socio-political and literary fields of the country. Some of them were prolific writers in both Bangla and English. National Professor Kabir Chowdhury, after his retirement, became a part-time teacher in the department. Professor Serajul Islam Choudhury is the present Professor Emeritus of the department. Both of them have made notable contributions in the fields of Bangla and English language and literature.

During the liberation war of Bangladesh in 1971, both teachers and students of the Department played active and glorious roles. Some took on the vital role of organizing the freedom struggle inside the country while others fought on the war front. Professor Dr. Jyotirmoy Guhathakurta was martyred on the fateful night of March 25, 1971, while Mr. Rashidul Hasan, a Senior Lecturer, was abducted and killed by the Al-Badr on December 14, 1971, just before Victory Day. The Literature Seminar of the department has been named the Guhathakurta-Rashid Seminar in their honour. In 2008, the Chair of that time, Professor Dr. Khondakar Ashraf Hossain, took the initiative to build a wooden installation on the wall of the seminar library as a memorial for the teachers and students of the Department martyred during the liberation war of Bangladesh. Professor Kaiser Md. Hamidul Haq actively participated in our glorious liberation war.
FROM THE PAGES OF HISTORY

Buddhadeva Bose

- Buddhadeva Bose (1908–1974) was a major Indian Bengali writer of the 20th century.
- Buddhadeva Bose received the Sahitya Akademi Award in 1967 for his verse play Tapaswi-O-Tarangini, the Rabindra Puraskar in 1974 for Swagato Biday (poetry); he was honoured with a Padma Bhushan in 1970.

Munier Choudhury

- Munier Choudhury (27 November 1925–14 December 1971), was a Bangladeshi educationist, playwright, literary critic and activist.
- He received the Bangla Academy Prize (1962), Daud Prize (1965) and Sitara-e-Imtiaz in 1966.

Leela Roy

- Leela Roy née Nag (2 October 1900–11 June 1970) was the first female graduate of the University of Dhaka.
- Leela Nag was a social activist emphasizing education for girls. She started the second girls school in Dhaka. She was also a politician and reformer and a close associate of Netaji Subhash Chandra Bose.
THE ENGLISH DEPARTMENT TODAY

The Department of English, University of Dhaka, is now a nationally reputed centre for academic excellence and literary creativity. The Department is situated on the first floor of the Arts Building. It has a multimedia room and a computer lab to provide technical support to the students. It has two seminar libraries: the Guhathakurata-Rashid Seminar is the Literature Library and the Abi Md. Nizamul Huq Seminar is the Language Library. The Department publishes the peer-reviewed journal Spectrum which features original scholarly articles, book reviews, translations, interviews and creative pieces.

The Department offers courses for four-year B.A. Honors degrees in English. At the M.A. level, students can pursue either Applied Linguistics and ELT or English Literature degree. The Department also offers M. Phil and Ph.D. degrees. Many students from foreign countries, including India, Korea, Nepal, Iran, Iraq, Turkey, Libya, Palestine and Somalia have studied in the Department in the past.

Scholarships and stipends are available for meritorious as well as needy students. These are provided by alumni and donors. The department arranges workshops, seminars, memorials and cultural programmes on a regular basis. Students participate in extracurricular activities such as sports, drama, debate, public speaking and cultural programmes.

Presently, there are thirty-four full-time faculty members, one Professor Emeritus, one Supernumerary Professor and six part-time teachers working for the department. Some of them have specialized from reputed foreign universities in British, American, Caribbean and Postcolonial literature, while others have advanced qualifications in ELT, Applied Linguistics and TESOL.

The English Department teaching faculty comprises highly qualified academics and professionals. They keep themselves updated by engaging in professional activities. These include research, conducting and participating in workshops, national and international seminars and conferences. They have published extensively in academic journals at home and abroad. Professors of the department have followed the footsteps of their peers in making significant contributions in the cultural and literary arenas of the country and have won several awards and prizes in recognition of their works.

Professor Dr. Kaiser M. H. Haq won the Pope Memorial Gold Medal for his performance in the B.A. Honours examination, and the Fazlur Rahman Gold Medal for his performance in the M.A. examination. He received the Bangla Academy Puroshkar (Literature Award) in the Translation Category for 2012.

Professor Dr. Fakrul Alam received the Bangla Academy Puroshkar (Literature Award) in the Translation Category for 2013 and the SAARC Literature Award, 2012. He has been Scholar-in-Residence at Clemson University, USA. He has published extensively internationally as well as nationally.

The current Chair, Professor Dr. Rubina Khan, a specialist in Applied Linguistics and ELT/TESOL, has distinguished herself in academic research. She has published in books and journals at home and abroad and given seminar & conference presentations internationally and nationally. She won the Leadership and Management Special Interest Group (SIG) award at the 45 International Association of Teachers of English as a Foreign Language (IATEFL) Conference in 2011.

Among teachers who have passed away in the last decade are Professor Razia Khan Amin, Professor Khondakar Ashraf Hossain and Professor Ahsanul Haque. They have made significant contribution to our literature and to the journals at home and abroad. Professors of the department have followed the footsteps of their peers in making significant contributions in the cultural and literary arenas of the country and have won several awards and prizes in recognition of their works.

Professor Dr. Kaiser M. H. Haq won the Pope Memorial Gold Medal for his performance in the B.A. Honours examination, and the Fazlur Rahman Gold Medal for his performance in the M.A. examination. He received the Bangla Academy Puroshkar (Literature Award) in the Translation Category for 2012.

Professor Dr. Fakrul Alam received the Bangla Academy Puroshkar (Literature Award) in the Translation Category for 2013 and the SAARC Literature Award, 2012. He has been Scholar-in-Residence at Clemson University, USA. He has published extensively internationally as well as nationally.

The current Chair, Professor Dr. Rubina Khan, a specialist in Applied Linguistics and ELT/ TESOL, has distinguished herself in academic research. She has published in books and journals at home and abroad and given seminar & conference presentations internationally and nationally. She won the Leadership and Management Special Interest Group (SIG) award at the 45th International Association of Teachers of English as a Foreign Language (IATEFL) Conference in 2011.

Among teachers who have passed away in the last decade are Professor Razia Khan Amin, Professor Khondakar Ashraf Hossain and Professor Ahsanul Haque. They have made significant contribution to our literature and to the
Quite a few distinguished faculty have retired in the past few years, including Professor Niaz Zaman who is known both for her academic and creative contributions. Additionally, Professor Nafisa Jamal, Professor Rebecca Haque, Professor Kazal Krishna Banerjee, Professor Nuzhat Amin, Professor Shamsad Mortuza, Rumana Siddique and Batool Sarwar are among departmental teachers who have distinguished themselves as creative writers.
HEADS OF THE DEPARTMENT
1921-1972

1. Mr. C. L. Wren
2. Dr. S. K. Das
3. Mr. C. L. Wren
4. Mr. Mahmud Hassan
5. Dr. S. N. Roy
6. Mr. Mahmud Hassan
7. Dr. S. N. Roy
8. Dr. Sukumar Ganguly
9. Dr. Itrat Hossain Zuberi
10. Miss A. G. Stock
11. Mr. J. S. Turner
12. Dr. Syed Sajjad Husain
13. Dr. Khan Sarwar Murshid

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name</th>
<th>Years</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Mr. C. L. Wren</td>
<td>1922-1923</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dr. S. K. Das</td>
<td>1923-1924</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mr. C. L. Wren</td>
<td>1924-1927</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mr. Mahmud Hassan</td>
<td>1927-1932</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dr. S. N. Roy</td>
<td>1932-1933</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mr. Mahmud Hassan</td>
<td>1933-1942</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dr. S. N. Roy</td>
<td>1942-1947</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dr. Sukumar Ganguly</td>
<td>1947-1950</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dr. Itrat Hossain Zuberi</td>
<td>1951-1953</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miss A. G. Stock</td>
<td>1953-1954</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mr. J. S. Turner</td>
<td>1954-1958</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dr. Syed Sajjad Husain</td>
<td>1959-1969</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dr. Khan Sarwar Murshid</td>
<td>1969-1972</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
CHAIRPERSONS SINCE 1973

1. Professor Dr. Serajul Islam Choudhury 1973-1976
2. Professor Kabir Chowdhury 1976-1979
3. Professor Dr. Serajul Islam Choudhury 1979-1979
4. Professor M. Shamsuddoha 1979-1982
5. Professor Dr. Razia Khan Amin 1982-1985
6. Professor Dr. M. Ahsanul Haque 1985-1988
7. Professor Dr. Syed Manzoorul Islam 1988-1991
9. Professor Dr. Fakrul Alam 1994-1997
10. Professor Dr. Niaz Zaman 1997-1999
11. Professor Dr. Khondakar Ashraf Hossain 1999-2000
12. Professor Dr. Niaz Zaman 2000-2000
13. Professor Dr. Shawkat Hussain 2000-2003
14. Professor Dr. Sadrul Amin 2003-2006
15. Professor Dr. Khondakar Ashraf Hossain 2006-2009
17. Professor Rebecca Haque 2009-2012
18. Professor Tahmina Ahmed 2012-2015
19. Professor Dr. Rubina Khan 2015-2018
Dr. Serajul Islam Choudhury is Professor Emeritus of the Department of English, University of Dhaka. He has an M.A. in English from the University of Dhaka, a post-graduate diploma in English Studies from the University of Leeds and a Ph.D. in English Literature from the University of Leicester, United Kingdom. His areas of interest are Modern Novel, Shakespeare, Women in Literature, Society and Culture.

email: chairenglishdu@du.ac.bd

Dr. Sadrul Amin is Supernumerary Professor of the Department of English, University of Dhaka. He has an M.A. in English from the University of the Punjab and a PGD in EFL/ESL from the University of Wales, United Kingdom. His areas of interest include Syllabus and Curriculum Design, Classical Drama in Translation, English Critical Theory and American Drama.

email: chairenglishdu@du.ac.bd

Dr. Rubina Khan is Professor and Chair of the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She has a Ph.D. in English Language Teaching (ELT) from the University of Warwick, UK and M.A. in TESOL from the University of Northern Iowa, USA. Her areas of interest are Teacher Education, Assessment and Leadership Skills.

e-mail: rkhan@agni.com
Tahmina Ahmed is Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She has an M.A. in English Literature from the University of Dhaka and an M.A. in English Literature from the University of Hawaii, USA. Her areas of interest are Drama and Performance, Teaching Language through Literature and American Studies.

e-mail: bhoopa1@hotmail.com

Rebecca Haque is Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She has an M.A. in English Literature from the University of Dhaka. She is also a published poet and translator. Her area of expertise is Twentieth-Century British and American Fiction and Drama. Other major areas of interest with publications are Shakespearean and Jacobean Drama, Cultural Studies and South Asian Fiction.

e-mail: haquerebecca@yahoo.com

Dr. Kazal Krishna Banerjee is Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. He has a Ph.D. in English from Jadavpur University, India. His areas of interest are African Literature in English, English Romantic Poetry, Victorian Poetry and Ibsen’s Plays.

e-mail: kajal.du@gmail.com

Zerin Alam is a Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She did her B.A. Honours from Loreto College under Calcutta University, India and an M.A. in English Literature from the University of Dhaka and an M.A. in ELT from University of Warwick, UK. She teaches Shakespeare, Discourse Analysis, Nineteenth Century Novels, ELT, and American Literature.

e-mail: zerinalam@du.ac.bd

Begum Shahnaz Sinha is Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She has an M.A. in Applied Linguistics and ELT from the University of Dhaka and an M.A. in ELT from University of Warwick, UK. Her areas of interest are Syllabus Design, Materials Development and Teacher Education.

e-mail: shahnaz_sinha@yahoo.com

Dr. Nevin Farida is a Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She completed her M.A. in English Literature from the University of Dhaka and an M.A. in English Literature from the University of Hawaii, USA. She was awarded Ph.D. in Applied Linguistics and ELT from University of Warwick, UK. Her areas of interest are Materials Development and the Interface between Literature and Language Teaching.

e-mail: nevinfarida@yahoo.com
Dr. Nevin Farida is a Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She completed her M.A. in English Literature from the University of Dhaka and M.Ed. in TESOL from the University of Monash. She was awarded Ph.D. in Applied Linguistics and ELT from University of Warwick, UK. Her areas of interest are Materials Development and the Interface between Literature and Language Teaching.

e-mail: nevinfarida@yahoo.com

Zerin Alam is a Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She did her B.A. Honours from Loreto College under Calcutta University, India and an M.A. in English Literature from the University of Dhaka and an M.A. in ELT from University of Warwick, UK. She teaches Shakespeare, Discourse Analysis, Nineteenth Century Novels, ELT, and American Literature.

e-mail: zerinalam@du.ac.bd

Begum Shahnaz Sinha is Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She has an M.A. in Applied Linguistics and ELT from the University of Dhaka and an M.A. in ELT from University of Warwick, UK. Her areas of interest are Syllabus Design, Materials Development and Teacher Education.

e-mail: shahnaz_sinha@yahoo.com
Dr. Shamsad Mortuza is Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. He has a Ph.D. in English Language Studies (ELS) from the International Islamic University of Malaysia (IIUM). He has an M.A. in Applied Linguistics and ELT from the University of Dhaka. Her areas of specialization are Curriculum Design, Language Needs Analysis and Content Specification, Teaching English Language Skills and Teaching Methodologies.

e-mail: tazinchaudhury@yahoo.com

Dr. Tazin Aziz Chaudhury is Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She has a Ph.D. in English Language Studies (ELS) from the International Islamic University of Malaysia (IIUM). She has an M.A. in Applied Linguistics and ELT from the University of Dhaka. Her areas of specialization are Curriculum Design, Language Needs Analysis and Content Specification, Teaching English Language Skills and Teaching Methodologies.

e-mail: tazinchaudhury@yahoo.com

Nazmeen Huq is Associate Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She has an M.A. in Literature from the University of Dhaka and an M.A. in Applied Linguistics form the University of Essex, England. She is currently enrolled in a Ph.D. programme at King’s College, London. Her interests include Cognitive, Metacognitive, and Motivational Factors that Promote Autonomous Learning of English and Researching Language Learning beyond the Classroom. She is also interested in English Language Teacher Professional Development.

e-mail: nazmeenuq2010@gmail.com

Shahiduzzaman is Associate Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. He has an M.A. in English (Literature) from the University of Dhaka and an M.A. in Linguistics and English Language Teaching from the University of Leeds, UK. His area of interest is Chomskyan Grammar.

e-mail: mshdzaman@gmail.com

Rumana Siddique is Associate Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She has an M.A. in Literature from University of Dhaka and an M.A. in ELT from the University of Warwick, UK. Her areas of interest include Cultural Aspects of Language Teaching, South Asian Literature, African Literature and Postcolonial Theory.

e-mail: rumanasid@yahoo.co.uk
Shahiduzzaman is Associate Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. He has an M.A. in English (Literature) from the University of Dhaka and an M.A. in Linguistics and English Language Teaching from the University of Leeds, UK. His area of interest is Chomskyan Grammar.

e-mail: mshdzaman@gmail.com

Tasneem Siraj Mahboob is Associate Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She has an M.A. in Applied Linguistics and ELT from the University of Dhaka and an M.A. in TESOL from Columbia University, USA. Her areas of interest are Teacher Education, Materials Design, Sociolinguistics and Teaching Language Skills.

e-mail: tasneem.mahboob@gmail.com

Rumana Siddique is Associate Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She has an M.A. in Literature from University of Dhaka and an M.A. in ELT from the University of Warwick, UK. Her areas of interest include Cultural Aspects of Language Teaching, South Asian Literature, African Literature and Postcolonial Theory.

e-mail: rumana_sid@yahoo.co.uk
Batool Sarwar is Associate Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She completed her first M.A. in English Literature from the University of Dhaka and a second M.A. in English Language Teaching (ELT) from the University of Warwick, UK. Her areas of interest are Postcolonial Literature, Curriculum Development and Designing Materials for Language Teaching using Literature as a Resource.

e-mail: batools@hotmail.com

Golam Gaus Al-Quaderi is an Associate Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. He has an M.A. in English Literature from the University of Dhaka. He is currently pursuing a doctoral degree at the University of Dhaka. His areas of interest include Postcolonial Studies, South Asian Literatures in English, Literary and Critical Theory and English Literature and Language Teaching.

e-mail: golamgaus@gmail.com; golamgaus@du.ac.bd

Ahmed Bashir is an Associate Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. He obtained his first M.A. in Applied Linguistics and ELT from the University of Dhaka and a second M.A. in TESOL from the University of Nottingham, Malaysia Campus. His areas of interests include Language Learning/Teaching Strategies, Learner Autonomy, ESL/EFL Acquisition/Learning, and Language Teaching Methodologies.

e-mail: abashir@du.ac.bd, abashirbd@gmail.com
Bijoy Lal Basu is an Associate Professor in the Department of English, University of Dhaka. He obtained his first M.A. in Applied Linguistics and ELT from the University of Dhaka and his second M.A. in TESOL from the UCL Institute of Education, UK. He is currently doing his Ph.D. at King’s College London, UK. His research interest lies in exploring the link between teachers' cognition and their use of ELT materials in the classroom. His other research interests include TESOL Teacher Education, Intercultural Communication, Sociolinguistics and Argumentation Theory.

Dr. Afrin Zeenat is an Assistant Professor in the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She obtained an M.A. in English and Ph.D. in American Literature with a secondary emphasis in Rhetoric and Composition from the University of Arkansas, USA. Her areas of interests are 18th Century English Literature, 19th Century American Literature, Rhetoric and Composition and South Asian Literature.

Farhanaz Rabbani is an Assistant Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. After completing her B.A. and M.A. in English Literature from the University of Dhaka, she completed her M.S. in Written Communications from National Louis University, Illinois, USA. Her research interests include Writing, Cultural Studies, Digital Media, Cinema and Popular and Folk Music.
Neelima Akhter is an Assistant Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She completed her M.A. in ELT from the University of Warwick, UK. Before that she obtained M.A. in Applied Linguistics and ELT from the University of Dhaka. Her research interests include Teaching Speaking, Materials Development, Task Based Language Teaching, Classroom Interaction, Spoken Discourse, and ICT in Language Teaching.

e-mail: neelima.akhter@du.ac.bd

Mahfida Tahniat is Assistant Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She holds an M.A. in English Literature from the University of Dhaka. Her areas of interest are Shakespeare, Romantic Poetry, and 20th Century English Literature.

e-mail: mahfidarumpa@gmail.com

Nehrir Khan is Assistant Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She has completed her M.A. in Applied Linguistics from Boston University, Massachusetts, USA. Her areas of interest are Phonetics, Phonology and Sociolinguistics.

e-mail: nehrir@gmail.com
Taslima Irine Ivy is an Assistant Professor at Department of English, University of Dhaka. She completed her first M.A. in Applied Linguistics and ELT from the University of Dhaka and second M.A. in Educational Technology and TESOL from the University of Manchester, UK. She is currently pursuing her Ph.D. at the University of Manchester. Her research interest lies in Cognitive and Affective Factors related to Multimedia Learning in EFL Classrooms as well as the Use of Educational Technology in EFL Classrooms of Developing Countries.

e-mail: taslimairine@yahoo.com

Anjuman Ara is an Assistant Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She holds a B.A. (Hons) in English and an M.A. in Applied Linguistics and ELT from University of Dhaka. She has also completed a second M.A. in TESOL from the University of Manchester, UK. Her areas of interest include Discourse, Culture, Identity and Translation Studies.

e-mail: anjumanfr@yahoo.com

Munasir Kamal is an Assistant Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She completed her first M.A. in English Literature from the University of Dhaka and second M.A. from the University of Nevada-Reno (UNR), USA. Her research interests include Native American and other Indigenous Literatures, Working Class Literature and Feminism.

e-mail: munasir.kamal@gmail.com
Pratiti Shirin is Assistant Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She completed her first M.A. in Applied Linguistics and ELT from the University of Dhaka and her second M.A. from UCL Institute of Education, University of London, UK. Her areas of interest include South Asian Feminisms and Gender Studies, Cultural Studies and ELT.

e-mail: pratshirin85@gmail.com

Sanjeeda Hossain is a Lecturer at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She completed her M.A. in English Literature from the University of Dhaka. She is currently pursuing a masters degree at Malaysia. Her areas of interest include Women and Gender Studies, South Asian Literature and Teaching Language through Literature.

e-mail: sanjeeda2410@gmail.com

Ashim Dutta is an Assistant Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. He graduated with a B.A. (Hons) in English and an M.A. in English Literature from the University of Dhaka. He has a second M.A. in English from Montclair State University, USA. He is currently pursuing a Ph.D. in the Department of English and Related Literature at the University of York, UK. His research and teaching interests include Modernist Literature (British, Irish and Bengali), Romantic Poetry, Literature of the American Renaissance, Postcolonial Literature and Theory, and Bengali Literature.

e-mail: ashimdutta.du@gmail.com

Bushra Mahzabeen is a Lecturer in the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She has done her B.A. and M.A. in English Literature from the University of Dhaka. She completed her second M.A. in World Literature from the University of Warwick, UK. Her research interests are Postmodernism, Postcolonial Literature, Media and Cultural Studies, World Systems Analysis and Environmental Humanities.

e-mail: bmahzabeen@yahoo.com; bushra.mahzabeen@du.ac.bd

Md. Elias Uddin is a Lecturer at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. He completed his M.A. in Applied Linguistics and ELT from the University of Dhaka. His areas of interest include Assessment and Testing, Teaching Language Skills, ELT Methodology, Research Methodology, Creative Writing, Translation Studies, World Englishes, Literary, Cultural and Political Theories, and Poetry.

e-mail: mdeliasuddin@yahoo.com, eliasuddin@du.ac.bd

Zaynul Abedin is a Lecturer in the Department of English, University of Dhaka. He completed his M.A. in English Literature from the University of Dhaka. His teaching and research interests include Romantic, Victorian and Modernist Poetry, Literary Theory and Postcolonial Literature.

e-mail: mzabedin@yahoo.com

Ashim Dutta is an Assistant Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. He graduated with a B.A. (Hons) in English and an M.A. in English Literature from the University of Dhaka. He has a second M.A. in English from Montclair State University, USA. He is currently pursuing a Ph.D. in the Department of English and Related Literature at the University of York, UK. His research and teaching interests include Modernist Literature (British, Irish and Bengali), Romantic Poetry, Literature of the American Renaissance, Postcolonial Literature and Theory, and Bengali Literature.

e-mail: ashimdutta.du@gmail.com
Md. Elias Uddin is a Lecturer at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. He completed his M.A. in Applied Linguistics and ELT from the University of Dhaka. His areas of interest include Assessment and Testing, Teaching Language Skills, ELT Methodology, Research Methodology, Creative Writing, Translation Studies, World Englishes, Literary, Cultural and Political Theories, and Poetry.

e-mail: mdeliasuddin@yahoo.com, eliasuddin@du.ac.bd

Bushra Mahzabeen is a Lecturer in the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She has done her B.A. and M.A. in English Literature from the University of Dhaka. She completed her second M.A. in World Literature from the University of Warwick, UK. Her research interests are Postmodernism, Postcolonial Literature, Media and Cultural Studies, World Systems Analysis and Environmental Humanities.

e-mail: bmahzabeen@yahoo.com; bushra.mahzabeen@du.ac.bd

Zaynul Abedin is a Lecturer in the Department of English, University of Dhaka. He completed his M.A. in English Literature from the University of Dhaka. His teaching and research interests include Romantic, Victorian and Modernist Poetry, Literary Theory and Postcolonial Literature.

e-mail: mzabedin@yahoo.com
Rumana Rafique is a Lecturer in the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She has completed her M.A. in Applied Linguistics and ELT from the Department of English, University of Dhaka. Her areas of interest include Second Language Acquisition, teaching writing, alternative assessment and educational technology.
email: rumana.raf@gmail.com

Mehedi Karim Shimanto is a Lecturer at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. He completed his MA in English Literature from the Department of English, University of Dhaka. His areas of interest include Shakespeare, Classics in Translation, Literary Theories, Cultural Studies, American Literature, Modern Fiction and Romantic Poetry.
email: m.k.shimanto@gmail.com

Nusrat Gulzar is a Lecturer at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She completed her MA in Applied Linguistics and ELT from the Department of English, University of Dhaka. Her areas of interest include English Language Teaching Methodologies, Teacher Education, Second Language Acquisition Theories, and Romantic and Victorian Poetry.
email: nusrat.gulzar@gmail.com

Dr. Fakrul Alam is Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. He has an M.A. from Simon Fraser University, Canada and a Ph.D. in English from British Columbia University, Canada. His areas of interest are 18th Century English Literature, American Romanticism, Translation Studies and Postcolonial Theory/Literature.
e-mail: falam1951@hotmail.com

Dr. Syed Manzoorul Islam is Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. He did his Ph.D. on Yeats’s poetry from Queens University, Canada in 1981. He is a renowned short fiction writer and art critic. Professor Islam’s areas of interest are Elizabethan Drama, Modern Poetry, Literary Theory and Cultural Studies.
e-mail: smidhaka@gmail.com

Rumana Rafique is a Lecturer in the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She has completed her M.A. in Applied Linguistics and ELT from the Department of English, University of Dhaka. Her areas of interest include Second Language Acquisition, teaching writing, alternative assessment and educational technology.
email: rumana.raf@gmail.com
Part-time Faculty Members

Dr. Syed Manzoorul Islam is Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. He did his Ph.D. on Yeats’s poetry from Queens University, Canada in 1981. He is a renowned short fiction writer and art critic. Professor Islam’s areas of interest are Elizabethan Drama, Modern Poetry, Literary Theory and Cultural Studies.

e-mail: smidhaka@gmail.com

Dr. Fakrul Alam is Professor at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. He has an M.A. from Simon Fraser University, Canada and a Ph.D. in English from British Columbia University, Canada. His areas of interest are 18th Century English Literature, American Romanticism, Translation Studies and Postcolonial Theory/Literature.

e-mail: falam1951@hotmail.com
Faculty of the Department of English

Mahbub Alam
UD Assistant and Computer Operator

OFFICE STAFF

M. A. Wares
Part-time Seminar Library Assistant

Abudul Hannan
Seminar Library Assistant

Md. Khijir Ahmed
Senior Office Attendant

Md. Ali Asgar Khan
Office Attendant

Susil Kumar Das
Principal Administrative Officer
OFFICE STAFF

Susil Kumar Das
Principal Administrative Officer

Mahbub Alam
UD Assistant and Computer Operator

Abudul Hannan
Seminar Library Assistant

Md. Khijir Ahmed
Senior Office Attendant

Md. Ali Asgar Khan
Office Attendant

M. A. Wares
Part-time Seminar Library Assistant

Md. Nasiruddin
Part-time Library Attendant
Professor Emeritus
A. F. Serajul Islam Choudhury, M.A. (Dhaka), P.G. Diploma (Leeds), Ph.D. (Leicester)

Supernumerary Professor
Sadrul Amin, M.A. (Punjab), P.G. Diploma (Wales); Ph.D. (Dhaka)

Chairperson
Professor Rubina Khan, M.A. (Dhaka), M.A. (Northern Iowa, USA), Ph.D. (Warwick)

Professors
Rebecca Haque, M.A. (Dhaka)
Tahmina Ahmed, M.A. (Dhaka), M.A. (Hawaii)
Kazal Krishna Banerjee, M.A. (Dhaka), Ph.D. (Jadavpur)
Nevin Farida, M.A. (Dhaka), M.A. (Monash), Ph.D. (Warwick)
Zerin Alam, M.A. (Dhaka), M.A. (Warwick)
Begum Shahnaz Sinha, M.A. (Dhaka), M.A. (Warwick)
Tazin Aziz Chaudhury, M.A. (Dhaka), Ph.D. (Malaysia)

Associate Professors
Nazmeen Huq, M.A. (Dhaka), M.A. (Sussex)
Molla Shahiduzzaman, M.A. (Dhaka), M.A. (Leeds)
Tasneem Siraj Mahboob, M.A. (Dhaka), M.A. (Columbia)
Rumana Siddique, M.A. (Dhaka), M.A. (Warwick)
Batool Sarwar, M.A. (Dhaka), M.A. (Warwick)
Golam Gaus Al-Quaderi, M.A. (Dhaka)
Ahmed Bashir, M.A. (Dhaka), M.A. (Nottingham)

Assistant Professors
Afrin Zeenat, M.A. (Dhaka), M.A. (Arkansas) Ph.D. (Arkansas)
Farhanaz Rabbani, M.A. (Dhaka), M.A. (Illinois)
Neelima Akhter, M.A. (Dhaka), M.A. (Warwick)
Mahfida Tahniat, M.A. (Dhaka)
Ashim Dutta, M.A. (Dhaka), M.A. (New Jersey)
Nehrir Khan, M.A. (Dhaka), M.A. (Boston)
Taslima Irine Ivy, M.A. (Dhaka), M.A. (Manchester)
Mst. Anjuman Ara, M.A. (Dhaka), M.A. (Manchester)
Munasir Kamal, M.A. (Dhaka), M.A. (Nevada Reno)
Pratiti Shirin, M.A. (Dhaka), M.A. (London)

Lecturers
Sanjeeda Hossain, M.A. (Dhaka)
Md. Elias Uddin, M.A. (Dhaka)
Bushra Mahzabeen, M.A. (Dhaka)
Zaynul Abedin, M.A. (Dhaka)
Nusrat Gulzar, M.A. (Dhaka)
Mehedi Karim Shimanto, M.A. (Dhaka)
Rumana Rafique, M.A. (Dhaka)
Part-time Teachers
Syed Manzoorul Islam, M.A. (Dhaka), Ph.D. (Queens)
Fakrul Alam, M.A. (Dhaka), M.A. (Simon Fraser), Ph.D. (British Columbia)
Mohammad Azam (Associate Professor, Bangla)
Professor Bhiswadeb Chowdhury (Bangla)
Professor Asha Islam Nayeem (History)
Professor Rashida Akhter Khanum (Philosophy)

Student Advisors
Mahfida Tahniat
Munasir Kamal
Zaynul Abedin

Office Staff
Susil Kumar Das, Principal Administrative Officer
Mahbub Alam, UD Assistant and Computer Operator
Abdul Hannan Library Assistant
Md. Khijir Ahmed, Senior Office Attendant
Md. Ali Asgar Khan, Peon
M. A. Wares, Part-time Seminar Library Assistant
Md. Nasiruddin, Part-time Library Attendant

DEGREES OFFERED
At present the Department offers courses for a four-year B.A. Honours degree in English. At the M.A. level students can choose either Applied Linguistics and ELT or English Literature. The Department also provides supervision for M. Phil and PhD research degrees.
DEGREES OFFERED
At present the Department offers courses for a four-year B.A. Honours degree in English. At the M.A. level students can choose either Applied Linguistics and ELT or English Literature. The Department also provides supervision for M. Phil and PhD research degrees.
SEMINAR LIBRARIES

The Department houses two seminar libraries: the Shahid Jyotirmoy Guhathakurta-Shahid Rashidul Hasan Seminar and the Abi Md. Niazmul Huq Seminar. The Guhathakurta- Rashid Seminar is the Literature library and is located next to the Department office. This library is well furnished for undergraduate and graduate work in English language and literature. To provide students with resources for assignments and research, there is also a wide range of relevant reference and theoretical textbooks on literature. In addition to books, the library has four computers with internet access for online research.

The Abi Md. Niazmul Huq Seminar is the language library and contains books related to Applied Linguistics and English Language Teaching (ELT), Teacher Education etc. It is located in Room 2077. This library also has three computers where students can access the internet for academic purposes.

These libraries aim to provide a quiet study area for students. To avail library facilities students have to pay a subsidized membership fee and use library cards for access to seminar facilities.

The working hours of these libraries are 9.00 am- 4.00 pm (Saturday to Thursday).
STUDENT SUPPORT

STUDENT ADVISORS
There are three full-time student advisors appointed to ensure the welfare of students and help them with any problems they may face. The advisors may be consulted on issues relating to registration formalities, academic matters, scholarship information and personal matters. Students should feel free to contact the advisors during their office hours or any other time by appointment. The current student advisors are Mahfida Tahniat, Munasir Kamal and Zaynul Abedin.

MENTORING PROGRAMME
The English Department Mentoring service was introduced on September 7, 2014 for the students of the English Department under a British Council project called INSPIRE DEWS. This was a groundbreaking initiative as it was the very first mentoring service offered at the University of Dhaka. Students are encouraged to avail the service, which is open five days a week from 9.00 am – 4 pm at the HEQEP Lab - 2 of Arts Building (Room No. 1039). The mentors have been trained to provide guidance regarding various academic issues as well as university facilities and procedures.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT CAREER COUNSELLING SERVICES
The Department of English will soon start the English Department Career Counselling Services (EDCCS) with the help of funds sanctioned by the English Department Alumni Society (EDAS). EDCCS will provide advice to graduating students of the department and offer job placement opportunities in different organizations by conducting regular workshops and seminars tailored towards the development of requisite job skills. In addition, it aims to organize job fairs to facilitate on-campus recruitment of department graduates. Furthermore, EDCCS will invite guest speakers from various organizations to share their expertise on the job search process and the job market and to better equip students to face the challenges ahead. Department teachers will also be available for consultation for 3 hours every week on a rotation basis. The office of EDCCS is located at Room 415, Lecture Theatre, University of Dhaka.
AWARDS, SCHOLARSHIPS AND STIPENDS

The Department offers both merit-based and need-based stipends. The funds are provided by the alumni and different donors. These scholarships are offered annually and notices are posted for student applications. Scholarships are supervised by the Student Advisors and students may contact them for inquiries. At present, the following awards are offered:

- Anwaruddin Award
- Shahid Nasim Mohsin Memorial Stipend
- S. F. Haider Foundation Scholarship
- G. A. Khan Memorial Scholarship
- Principal Jalaluddin Ahmed Trust
- Razia-Nawab Scholarship
- (Late) Professor Jahan Ara Chowdhury and (Late) Mr. Nurullah Chowdhury Memorial Scholarship
- A. Samad (M.A. Leeds) Memorial Scholarship
- Abdul Awaal-Feroza Begum Memorial Scholarship
- Sirajul Haq Chowdhury and Samiul Haq Chowdhury Memorial Scholarship
- Majid Ul Haq and Mumtaz Jahan Zebunissa Majid Trust Fund
- Professor Dr. Razia Khan Amin Trust Fund
AWARDS, SCHOLARSHIPS AND STIPENDS

The Department offers both merit-based and need-based stipends. The funds are provided by the alumni and different donors. These scholarships are offered annually and notices are posted for student applications. Scholarships are supervised by the Student Advisors and students may contact them for inquiries. At present, the following awards are offered:

- Anwaruddin Award
- Shahid Nasim Mohsin Memorial Stipend
- S. F. Haider Foundation Scholarship
- G. A. Khan Memorial Scholarship
- Principal Jalaluddin Ahmed Trust
- Razia-Nawab Scholarship
- (Late) Professor Jahan Ara Chowdhury and (Late) Mr. Nurullah Chowdhury Memorial Scholarship
- A. Samad (M.A. Leeds) Memorial Scholarship
- Abdul Awaal-Feroza Begum Memorial Scholarship
- Sirajul Haq Chowdhury and Samiul Haq Chowdhury Memorial Scholarship
- Majid Ul Haq and Mumtaz Jahan Zebunissa Majid Trust Fund
- Professor Dr. Razia Khan Amin Trust Fund

STUDENT CLUBS

The Department encourages its students to take part in co-curricular and extra-curricular activities. Students wishing to participate may consider joining one or more of the clubs run by students and supervised by teachers.

Clubs at the department include: Literary Club, English Department Drama Club, Film Club and others. In addition, Krishnachura, established on April 14, 2011 by Late Professor Khandaker Ashraf Hossain, is a vibrant cultural organization of the department. The members of these clubs are also invited to take part in various programs organized by the department throughout the academic year. These include Freshers’ Welcome, Farewell Reception, Literary and Cultural festivals such as Shakespeare Fest, Women’s Day Celebrations, Centenary celebrations of renowned writers like Henrik Ibsen, Doris Lessing, Chinua Achebe and Ernest Hemingway.
English Department students regularly take part in university and inter-university sport events and tournaments. Interested students may participate in various sports events. The departmental Cricket, Football, and Basketball teams have enjoyed considerable success in Inter-Department Competitions winning trophies on several occasions. The departmental Basketball Team had its golden days in 2001-2005, achieving a record-breaking success by winning the Championship Trophy five-times consecutively in the Inter-Department Basketball Competitions. The Cricket and Football teams have also made their mark in recent times. Students of the department have also excelled in individual sports such as Chess, Carom, Table Tennis, Judo and Karate.
ENGLISH DEPARTMENT ALUMNI SOCIETY (EDAS)

English Department Alumni Society (EDAS) is an organization of the former students of the department. Established in 1986, it has been contributing to the welfare of students by giving scholarships and financial assistance to various academic and cultural programmes of the department.

Some of our most illustrious alumni include Ms. Lila Nag (social activist and first female graduate of University of Dhaka), Mr. Buddhadev Bose (renowned poet), Dr. Jyotirmoy Guhathakurta (Martyred during the War of Liberation), Professor Munier Chowdhury (Martyred during the War of Liberation), Professor Rashidul Hasan (Martyred during the War of Liberation), Professor Kabir Chowdhury (Former National Professor, Department of English, University of Dhaka), Dr. Khan Sarwar Murshid (Professor, Department of English, University of Dhaka), Dr. Zillur Rahman Siddiqui (Professor of English and Former Vice Chancellor, Jahangirnagar University), Professor K. M. A. Munim (Editor, Daily Observer & Associate Professor), Dr. Ahsanul Haque (Professor, Department of English, University of Dhaka), Dr. Serajul Islam Choudhury (Professor Emeritus, Department of English, University of Dhaka), Professor Husniara Huq, Dr. Razia Khan Amin (Professors, Department of English, University of Dhaka), Professor Suraiya Khanam, Professor M. Shamsuddoha, Dr. Niaz Zaman (Professors, Department of English, University of Dhaka), Professor Perween Hasan (Vice Chancellor, Central Women’s University), Professor Abi Md. Nizamul Haque, Dr. Sadrul Amin (Professor, Department of English, & Dean, Faculty of Arts, University of Dhaka), Dr. Shawkat Hussain (Professor, Department of English, University of Dhaka), Dr. Khondakar Ashraf Hossain (Professor, Department of English, University of Dhaka), Ms. Rasheda K. Chowdhury (Former Advisor to the Caretaker Government of Bangladesh), Mr. Ayub Quadri (Former Advisor to the Caretaker Government of Bangladesh), Ms. Geeteara Shafiya Choudhury (Chief Executive, ADCOM & Former Advisor to the Caretaker Government of Bangladesh), Dr. A. M. M. Shawkat Ali (Former Advisor to the Caretaker Government of Bangladesh), Dr. Emajuddin Ahamed (Former Vice-
Academic dishonesty or academic misconduct is any type of cheating that occurs in relation to a formal academic exercise (including tutorial assignments, presentations, in-course, mid-term and final examinations). It can include:

Plagiarism:
The adoption or reproduction of original creations of another author (person, collective, organization, community or other type of author, including anonymous authors) without due acknowledgment. In other words, plagiarism is taking the ideas or words of someone else and using them as one’s own. Direct quotes or summary of other authors’ ideas may be used in students’ own academic essays with due acknowledgment of the original sources.

Fabrication:
The falsification of data, information, or citations in any formal academic exercise.

Cheating:
Any attempt to give or obtain assistance in a formal academic exercise (like an examination) without due acknowledgment.

Students are expected to complete their own original work as authorized by the course instructor. If the students recycle his/her course work for class activities, he/she may be committing academic dishonesty. If anyone presents someone else’s work as one’s own, deliberately provides wrong information about academic matters to any official in the department or university he/she is committing an act of academic dishonesty.

Penalties for academic dishonesty (plagiarism, fabrication and cheating):
Various disciplinary measures will be taken against any act of academic dishonesty depending on the degree of violation. The faculty may issue a verbal warning; fail the student for the course; the disciplinary committee might counsel term suspension from the department; recommend suspension or expulsion under the University of Dhaka disciplinary board. The University of Dhaka has a policy regarding academic conduct and offenders may receive punitive measures accordingly.

Chancellor, University of Dhaka), Mr. Muhammed Ali (Former Secretary, Government of Bangladesh), Dr. A.K.M. Masihur Rahman (Advisor to the Prime Minister, People’s Republic of Bangladesh), Mr. Abul Maal A. Muhith (Honourable Minister, Ministry of Finance, Government of Bangladesh), Mr. M. Mubjibul Huq (Rtd. Cabinet Secretary, Government of Bangladesh), Advocate Ozair Farooq (Former President, English Department Alumni Society), Mr. Haroun-Al-Rashid (Former General Secretary, English Department Alumni Society), Mr. M. Mosharraf Hossain Bhuiyan (Former Cabinet Secretary, Government of Bangladesh). These are only a few of the many distinguished alumni that we have been able to name on this occasion.
ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

Academic dishonesty or academic misconduct is any type of cheating that occurs in relation to a formal academic exercise (including tutorial assignments, presentations, in-course, midterm and final examinations). It can include:

Plagiarism: The adoption or reproduction of original creations of another author (person, collective, organization, community or other type of author, including anonymous authors) without due acknowledgment. In other words, plagiarism is taking the ideas or words of someone else and using them as one’s own. Direct quotes or summary of other authors’ ideas may be used in students’ own academic essays with due acknowledgment of the original sources.

Fabrication: The falsification of data, information, or citations in any formal academic exercise.

Cheating: Any attempt to give or obtain assistance in a formal academic exercise (like an examination) without due acknowledgment.

Students are expected to complete their own original work as authorized by the course instructor. If the students recycle his/her course work for class activities, he/she may be committing academic dishonesty. If anyone presents someone else’s work as one’s own, deliberately provides wrong information about academic matters to any official in the department or university he/she is committing an act of academic dishonesty.

Penalties for academic dishonesty (plagiarism, fabrication and cheating):

Various disciplinary measures will be taken against any act of academic dishonesty depending on the degree of violation. The faculty may issue a verbal warning; fail the student for the course; the disciplinary committee might counsel term suspension from the department; recommend suspension or expulsion under the University of Dhaka disciplinary board. The University of Dhaka has a policy regarding academic conduct and offenders may receive punitive measures accordingly.
Sexual Harassment Policy

The Department of English will take strict and prompt action against any student found guilty of sexual harassment. Any student who feels that she/he is being subject to sexual harassment should contact one of the student advisors or any other teacher immediately.

Offenders may be recommended for expulsion from the department by the disciplinary committee.

PROJECTS

With the financial aid and support of the World Bank and the University Grants Commission of Bangladesh, and under the supervision of HEQEP (Higher Education Quality Enhancement Project), a two-year long project ‘Improvement and Innovation in English Teaching-Learning’ was started in 2011. Professor Dr. Fakrul Alam was in charge of the project as the Sub-project Manager. The project was a highly acclaimed venture on its completion. The University of Dhaka further recommended the project to be turned into a research centre in 2013. It is now the Centre for English Teaching and Research (CETR).

The Department of English at University of Dhaka, Bangladesh had been awarded INSPIRE (International Strategic Partnership in Research and Education) funding for running a project (From December 1, 2013) titled DEWS (Dhaka University Writing Service) with the Institute of Education, University of Manchester as the Higher Education Institution from UK. INSPIRE is a British Council funded project that aims to significantly strengthen academic and research partnerships between UK Higher Education Institutions (HEI) and other HEIs across the world. The DEWS project aims to train junior faculty and graduate students to build a teaching team who will mentor freshmen and help them acquire academic and professional writing skills. The project has successfully introduced the department’s mentoring programme and redesigned writing courses (ENG 101, ENG 104 and ENG 204). Due to the successful implementation of the project aims the department has received funding for two consecutive phases and is currently preparing to enter the third phase.
CENTRE FOR ENGLISH TEACHING AND RESEARCH (CETR)

The Centre for English Teaching and Research (CETR) is based at the Department of English, University of Dhaka. Approved by the Academic Council (August 14, 2012) and Syndicate of the University of Dhaka (September 12, 2012) CETR is an organization which intends to use state-of-the-art equipment and practices allowing it to blend face-to-face teaching with online work and research in an excellent learning environment. CETR provides certificate, diploma and degree teaching courses, training and professional courses for the development of English language and literature teaching professionals. The Centre also aims to strengthen academic links, collaboration and exchanges between the Department of English and institutions engaged in English Studies/ELT research in Bangladesh and the world outside. Professor Tahmina Ahmed is the Director of the Centre.

CETR STAFF

Tarun Kumar Biswas
Md. Israfel Hossain
SPECTRUM

Spectrum is an annual peer-reviewed journal of scholarly articles, book reviews, translations, interviews, and creative writing (poems and short stories). Spectrum accepts contributions from interested people, including alumni and current students of the Department in Literature, ELT, Applied Linguistics, TESOL etc. Submissions should not have been previously published, or be under consideration for publication elsewhere. Scholarly articles should follow the MLA/ APA Style Sheet and should be between 3000 to 6000 words. Interested persons should submit two hard copies and a soft copy of their manuscripts. Two hard copies of the manuscript should be addressed to the Editor, Spectrum: Journal of the Department of English, University of Dhaka, Dhaka 1000, and a soft copy of the same to spectrum.ed.du@gmail.com. Short biographies of the authors and contact information should be provided at the time of submission. Submissions can be made any time of the year. The journal is also available online.
Spectrum is an annual peer-reviewed journal of scholarly articles, book reviews, translations, interviews, and creative writing (poems and short stories).

Spectrum accepts contributions from interested people, including alumni and current students of the Department in Literature, ELT, Applied Linguistics, TESOL etc. Submissions should not have been previously published, or be under consideration for publication elsewhere. Scholarly articles should follow the MLA/ APA Style Sheet and should be between 3000 to 6000 words. Interested persons should submit two hard copies and a soft copy of their manuscripts. Two hard copies of the manuscript should be addressed to the Editor, Spectrum: Journal of the Department of English, University of Dhaka, Dhaka 1000, and a soft copy of the same to spectrum.ed.du@gmail.com. Short biographies of the authors and contact information should be provided at the time of submission. Submissions can be made any time of the year. The journal is also available online.
Programme Structure
Duration: 1 year
Semesters: 2
Each Semester: 26 weeks

Semester I: Semester one will comprise four 4-credit courses each carrying 100 marks and one 1-credit course of 25 marks.

\[ 100 \times 4 = 400 \text{ Marks (16 credits) and 25 marks (1 credit)} \]

Semester II: Semester II will also comprise four 4-credit courses each carrying 100 marks and one 1-credit course of 25 marks.

\[ 100 \times 4 = 400 \text{ Marks (16 credits) and 25 marks (1 credit)} \]

Total number of 4-credit courses: 8
Marks: \( 100 \times 8 = 800 \)
Each course: 4 credits

Total number of 1-credit courses: 2
Marks: \( 25 \times 2 = 50 \)
Each course: 1 credit

Total marks: \( (800 + 50) = 850 \)
Total Credits: \( (4 \times 8) + (2 \times 1) = 34 \)

Required contact hours for each 1-credit course: 15 teaching hours
Required contact hours for each 4-credit course: 60 teaching hours

Teaching and Evaluation of 4-credit courses of 100 marks each:

a) Each 4-credit course will be taught and evaluated by two teachers of the Department. Each course teacher will have one and a half hours of class time per week for fifteen weeks in a semester for each 4-credit course.
b) Midterm tests will be given in the middle of the semester. The duration of midterm tests will be 2 hours. Total marks for the Midterm tests will be 30. Each teacher will give a test of 15 marks. In some courses, students may be required to submit assignments/research papers and do other tasks as part of midterm tests.

c) Semester final examinations will be held for every course at the end of each semester. The duration of semester final examination will be 4 hours and total marks will be 60. Two teachers will set questions and evaluate the scripts. Marks obtained in the semester final examinations will be the average of the two marks.

d) Class attendance and participation will carry 10 marks for each 4-credit course. Each course teacher will give marks out of 5 and marks of the two teachers will then be added. Teachers may give marks using the following rating scale:

Attendance in 90% or above classes may be given 5 marks, 85% to less than 90% --- 4 marks, 80% to less than 85% --- 3 marks, 75% to less than 80% --- 2 marks, 60% to less than 75% --- 1 mark, and below 60% --- 0.

Teaching and Evaluation of 1-credit courses of 25 marks each: Presentation 10 Marks and Viva Voce 15 Marks

a) For the 1-credit courses, students will be divided into small groups and each group will be assigned with one teacher. They will be evaluated through presentations in both semesters. There will be no written test for 1-credit courses.

b) There will be an oral examination at the end of each semester. The examination committee will hold this examination at the end of the semester final examination.

Class Attendance Requirements:

a. Class attendance is compulsory for each student.

b. Students with 75% and above in each course will be eligible to sit for semester final examinations.
c. Students with attendance below 75% going down to 60% will be considered non-collegiate and will be allowed to sit for the examinations only after paying the required university fines.

d. Students with attendance below 60% will not be eligible to appear at the examinations.

Grading Scale and Grades:
Marks obtained in each course will be transferred to grades leading to GPA (Grade Point Average). The conversion chart based on UGC guidelines is given below:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Numerical Grades</th>
<th>Letter Grades</th>
<th>Grade Points (1 unit)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>80 and above</td>
<td>A+</td>
<td>4.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>75 to less than 80</td>
<td>A</td>
<td>3.75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>70 to less than 75</td>
<td>A–</td>
<td>3.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>65 to less than 70</td>
<td>B+</td>
<td>3.25</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>60 to less than 65</td>
<td>B</td>
<td>3.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>55 to less than 60</td>
<td>B–</td>
<td>2.75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>50 to less than 55</td>
<td>C+</td>
<td>2.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>45 to less than 50</td>
<td>C</td>
<td>2.25</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>40 to less than 45</td>
<td>D</td>
<td>2.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Less than 40</td>
<td>F</td>
<td>0.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Incomplete (Does not take an exam)</td>
<td>I</td>
<td>0.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Withdrawn (Does not attend any class and take any exam)</td>
<td>W</td>
<td>0.00</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
MA in Literature Programme

- Students with attendance below 75% going down to 60% will be considered non-collegiate and will be allowed to sit for the examinations only after paying the required university fines.
- Students with attendance below 60% will not be eligible to appear at the examinations.

Grading Scale and Grades:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Numerical Grades</th>
<th>Letter Grades</th>
<th>Grade Points</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>(1 units)</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>80 and above</td>
<td>A+</td>
<td>4.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>75 to less than 80</td>
<td>A</td>
<td>3.75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>70 to less than 75</td>
<td>A–</td>
<td>3.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>65 to less than 70</td>
<td>B+</td>
<td>3.25</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>60 to less than 65</td>
<td>B</td>
<td>3.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>55 to less than 60</td>
<td>B–</td>
<td>2.75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>50 to less than 55</td>
<td>C+</td>
<td>2.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>45 to less than 50</td>
<td>C</td>
<td>2.25</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>40 to less than 45</td>
<td>D</td>
<td>2.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Less than 40</td>
<td>F</td>
<td>0.00</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Incomplete (Does not take an exam) 0.00
Withdrawn (Does not attend any class and take any exam) 0.00
MA in Literature

The programme at the Department of English, University of Dhaka is a comprehensive one year programme aimed at enhancing our students' knowledge of literature in global English.

The course builds upon the BA (Hons.) in English Literature by moving beyond the Western canon to incorporate other literatures and introduces students to modern twentieth century and contemporary approaches to studying literature. Students will engage in independent literary analysis from an interdisciplinary perspective and will learn to engage with ongoing theoretical debates and discursive practices.

The programme equips students with the knowledge required to meet the high standards of academic research such as using professional journals and introduce students to bodies that publish academic research online. Students will learn to make appropriate use of the conventions of writing in literary studies and to refer accurately and appropriately to texts and sources. It also aims to foster the overall development of the students' critical and intellectual faculties to allow them to develop their knowledge of literature and bolster their skills to review, research, write and publish papers of an international standard.

Course Code: Eng. 501
Course Title: Literary Theory
Course Credit: 4
Full Marks: 100

Aims and Objectives

The aim of this course is to help students explore different schools of modern literary theory. The focus is on familiarizing students with various ways in which scholars have interpreted texts using methods that they have developed. It will enable students to acquire an epistemological understanding of the world through the study of literary theory.
Intended Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the course, the students will be able to:

- distinguish between different literary theories and criticism
- understand the application of different modern theories in literary analysis
- individually analyze literary texts using different theories
- demonstrate an awareness of the interconnectedness among the different schools of literary theory

Course Content and Description
This course introduces the major schools of 20th and 21st century literary theory and criticism. Emphasis is given on the major trends in the history of criticism, ranging from Russian formalism and structuralism to post-structuralism, New Historicism and others.

Formalism and Structuralism
- Victor Shklovsky, “Art as Technique,” Rice and Waugh (ed.) Literary Theory
- Ferdinand Saussure, from Course in General Linguistics, Rice and Waugh (ed.) Literary Theory

Psychoanalytical Criticism
- Sigmund Freud, “The Uncanny,” “The Dream-Work”

Marxism
- Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels, The Communist Manifesto
- Louis Althusser, “Ideology and Ideological State Apparatuses”
Feminism
Sandra Gilbert and Susan Gubar, from The Madwoman in the Attic, Rice and Waugh (ed.) Literary Theory
Chandra T. Mohanty, “Under Western Eyes: Feminist Scholarship and Colonial Discourse” Luce Irigaray, This Sex Which Is Not One

Post-Structuralism and Deconstruction
Jean Baudrillard, “The Orders of Simulacra,” Rice and Waugh (ed.) Literary Theory

Postcolonialism
Frantz Fanon: from Wretched of the Earth, “Pitfalls of the Nationalist Consciousness,” Norton Anthology of Theory and Criticism
Edward Said, from Culture and Imperialism, Rice and Waugh (ed.), Literary Theory
Homi Bhabha, “Of Mimicry and Man: The Ambivalence of Colonial Discourse,” Rice and Waugh (ed.), Literary Theory

New Historicism
Michel Foucault, “History of Sexuality,” Norton Anthology of Theory and Criticism
Louis Monstrose, New Historicism and Renaissance Culture

Recommended Readings

Course Code : Eng. 502
Course Title : From Modernism to Postmodernism
Course Credit : 4
Full Marks : 100

Aims and Objectives
This course aims to provide a contemporary perspective on modernism and postmodernism. Students will read key texts to appreciate the distinctive features of both movements and to locate the cultural transformations in historical contexts. This course intends to further develop students' ability to undertake literary analysis, understand and employ critical theory and interrogate cultural texts of the twentieth and twenty-first centuries.

Intended Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the course, students will be able to:
- demonstrate awareness of the varying definitions of modernism and postmodernism
- discuss and analyze the historical and cultural contexts of modernism and postmodernism
- appreciate the similarities and differences between the texts of “High Modernism” and postmodernism
- recognize the cultural shifts in literary texts from modernism to postmodernism
- draw upon a range of theoretical concepts to explain and analyze literary texts
- explain the postmodern signatures in the texts they study
Course Content and Description

In order to gain an overview of modernism and the subsequent cultural turn towards postmodernism, students will read a range of texts to trace the critical emergence of these two movements in British, American and other literatures and cultures. The course will focus on the thematic and formal aspects of modernism and postmodernism in the selected texts for study.

Theory

Jean Francois Lyotard, The Postmodern Condition: A Report on Knowledge
Jean Baudrillard, Symbolic Exchange and Death, “Simulacra and Simulations”
Ihab Hassan, “Toward a Concept of Postmodernism,” “POSTmodernISM: a Paracritical Bibliography”
Fredrick Jameson, “The Cultural Logic of Late Capitalism”
Charles Jenks, “The Death of Modern Architecture”

Selections from From Modernism to Postmodernism: An Anthology, edited by Lawrence Cahoone, Blackwell, 2003

Modernism

James Joyce, Excerpts from Ulysses (Norton Anthology, vol. 2, 7th edition)
T. S. Eliot, “The Hollow Men,” “Gerontion”
Ezra Pound, “A Retrospect”
Virginia Woolf, To the Lighthouse

Postmodernism

Selections from Norton Anthology of Postmodern American Fiction, edited by Paula Geyh et al.
Gabriel Garcia Marquez, Strange Pilgrims
Milan Kundera, Book of Laughter and Forgetting
John Barth, “Lost in the Funhouse”
Recommended Reading

Course Code: 503
Course Title: Presentation and Viva Voce
Course Credit: 1
Full Marks: 20

Aims and Objectives
The aim of the course is to develop the oral and presentation skills of the students. The focus of this course is to make students familiar with professional presentation skills and to instill confidence in them for public speaking following academic conventions.

Intended Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the course, students will be able to:

- demonstrate enhanced presentation skills
- use primary and secondary sources
- acknowledge sources of information appropriately
- speak in English confidently
use multimedia effectively handle question-answer sessions confidently

Course Content and Description
This course gives students an opportunity to practice oral skills. It emphasizes analyzing and synthesizing information gathered from secondary sources. The course focuses on the importance of eye contact, body language and vocal tone as well as of the conventions of using transitional signals. Various strategies of handling question-answer sessions and of using technology in oral presentations (e.g. multimedia) are also taught in this course.

Recommended Readings

Course Code: Eng. 504
Course Title: Contemporary British Literature
Course Credit: 4
Full Marks: 100

Aims and Objectives
The course aims to introduce students to a wide variety of texts by contemporary British writers to make them aware of the significance of the cultural and contextual influences under which these literary texts are written and received. It attempts to sensitize students to the underlying theoretical constructs such as postmodernism, absurdism, feminism etc. It gives them an opportunity to explore key issues such as the impact of war and the radical restructuring of gender and class structure in post-war Britain as overarching concerns in many of the texts.

Intended Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the course, students will be able to:

- read and respond to texts critically, showing an awareness of how writers use and adapt language, form and structure to create meaning in texts
- demonstrate understanding of the socio-cultural and political contexts in which texts have been produced and received
- read and analyze texts in the light of contemporary literary theories that are relevant to the issues raised in the texts

Course Content and Description

The course introduces students to a selection of poetry, novels and drama to allow them to explore the evolving and experimental forms and techniques used by the writers to portray the socio-cultural and political milieu of modern Britain. Students will be expected to read:

- Ted Hughes: “Wind,” “Relic,” “Pike,” “The Seven Sorrows,” “Daffodils,” “Morse,”
- James Fenton: “A German Requiem,” “Wind”
- Tom Stoppard, Rosencrantz and Guildenstern are Dead
- Harold Pinter, The Caretaker
- V.S. Naipaul, The Enigma of Arrival
- A.S. Byatt, Possession

Recommended Reading

Course Code : Eng. 505
Course Title : Shakespeare
Course Credit : 4
Full Marks : 100

Aims and Objectives

This course aims to provide students with an in-depth understanding of Shakespeare and to develop a nuanced interpretation of the texts. Students will be introduced to critical approaches to the study of Shakespeare's works where they will learn to apply theoretical concepts to the analysis of individual plays. The course also draws attention to the importance of historical context in the reading of the texts. Additionally, students will examine Shakespeare in the Elizabethan context as well as from a global perspective to connect Shakespeare's texts to local culture and the contemporary world.
Intended Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the course, students will be able to:

- demonstrate a comprehensive knowledge and understanding of Shakespeare
- interpret Shakespeare from different theoretical and ideological perspectives
- connect Shakespeare to their own cultural landscape
- view Shakespeare from a global perspective

Course Content and Description
The course will examine a range of genres from tragedy to comedy to history plays and late romances to develop an overview of Shakespeare's contribution to English drama and to appreciate the scope of his work.

Students will be expected to read:
- A Midsummer Night's Dream
- As You Like It
- Julius Caesar
- Othello
- The Tempest

(Any of the following editions will be acceptable: Arden, Oxford, Cambridge, New Pelican, Penguin)

Recommended Readings

Course Code : 506
Course Title : Presentation and Viva Voce
Course Credit : 1
Full Marks : 20

Aims and Objectives
The aim of the course is to develop the oral and presentation skills of the students. The focus of this course is to make students familiar with professional presentation skills and to instill confidence in them for public speaking following academic conventions.

Intended Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the course, students will be able to:
  - demonstrate enhanced presentation skills
  - use primary and secondary sources
  - acknowledge sources of information appropriately
  - speak in English confidently
• use multimedia effectively
• handle question-answer sessions confidently

Course Content and Description
This course gives students an opportunity to practice oral skills. It emphasizes analyzing and synthesizing information gathered from secondary sources. The course focuses on the importance of eye contact, body language and vocal tone as well as of the conventions of using transitional signals. Various strategies of handling question-answer sessions and of using technology in oral presentations (e.g. multimedia) are also taught in this course.

Recommended Reading
about the social, cultural, and political contexts of modern American literature. Students will learn to appreciate the multicultural voices that characterize the American literary tradition.

Intended Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the course, students will be able to:

- demonstrate knowledge of selected texts in modern American literature
- obtain an understanding of key critical and literary concepts of the American context, which includes race, democracy, class, gender, capitalism, and transnationalism
- identify, describe and critically evaluate major developments in American literature

Course Content and Description

The course introduces students to a selection of prose, poetry, and drama in relation to their historical and cultural contexts. Texts will be selected from among a diverse group of authors including the following:

Prose
- Ralph Ellison, Invisible Man
- Vladimir Nabokov, Pale Fire
- John Updike, Rabbit, Run
- Saul Bellow, Seize the Day
- Maxine Hong Kingston, The Woman Warrior
- Thomas Lynchon, The Crying of Lot 49
- Sandra Cisneros, House on Mango Street
- Jhumpa Lahiri, Namesake
Poetry

Drama
   Amiri Baraka, Dutchman
   Sam Shepard, Buried Child
   Tennessee Williams, A Streetcar Named Desire

Recommended Readings

Course Code : Eng 508
Course Title : Cultural Studies
Credits : 4
Full marks : 100

Aims and Objectives
   The aim of this course is to introduce students to the concept of cultural studies. Cultural Studies is an interdisciplinary field where theories from different disciplines are analyzed to understand culture in its various manifestations: the complex and multifaceted relations of culture and society, culture and class, and culture and power. Students will focus on how cultural processes and products are conceptualized, distributed, consumed and responded to in diverse ways.

Intended Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the course, students will be able to:

- form a comprehensive idea about culture and different forms of culture, and the relationship between society and power
- learn about the major factors determining identity, ethnicity, race and gender relations
- demonstrate understanding of concepts of ideology, power, hierarchy and other factors influencing culture
- understand what cultural turns are taking place with the advent of postmodernism, visual culture, the internet, and artificial intelligence
- engage in interdisciplinary analysis when they connect literary theories to cultural studies

Course Content and Description

This course has two main streams. The first stream deals with the prominent scholars of Cultural Studies, such as Raymond Williams, Louis Althusser, Stuart Hall, Jean-Francois Lyotard and Mikhail Bakhtin. Their theories on power structures and society will be extensions of the theories studied in other courses. In the second stream, mass and popular culture are introduced. Selected essays on image representation and identity will be taught.

Students are expected to read the following:
- Roland Barthes, “Rhetoric of the Image”
- Raymond Williams, “The Analysis of Culture”
- Laura Mulvey, “Visual Pleasure and Narrative Cinema”
manifestations: the complex and multifaceted relations of culture and society, culture and class, and culture and power. Students will focus on how cultural processes and products are conceptualized, distributed, consumed and responded to in diverse ways.

Intended Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the course, students will be able to:

- form a comprehensive idea about culture and different forms of culture, and the relationship between society and power
- learn about the major factors determining identity, ethnicity, race and gender relations
- demonstrate understanding of concepts of ideology, power, hierarchy and other factors influencing culture
- understand what cultural turns are taking place with the advent of postmodernism, visual culture, the internet, and artificial intelligence
- engage in interdisciplinary analysis when they connect literary theories to cultural studies

Course Content and Description

This course has two main streams. The first stream deals with the prominent scholars of Cultural Studies, such as Raymond Williams, Louis Althusser, Stuart Hall, Jean-Francois Lyotard and Mikhail Bakhtin. Their theories on power structures and society will be extensions of the theories studied in other courses. In the second stream, mass and popular culture are introduced. Selected essays on image representation and identity will be taught.

Students are expected to read the following:

- Roland Barthes, "Rhetoric of the Image"
- Raymond Williams, "The Analysis of Culture"
- Laura Mulvey, "Visual Pleasure and Narrative Cinema"
- Michel Foucault, "Method"
- Antonio Gramsci, "Hegemony, Intellectuals and the State"
- Mikhail Bakhtin, "Carnival and Carnivalesque"
- Jean-François Lyotard, "The Postmodern Condition"
- Stuart Hall, "Notes on Deconstructing 'the Popular'"
- C. W. Watson, "Multiculturalism in Historical Perspective"
- Christine Geraghty, "Soap Opera and Utopia"
- Jacqueline Bobo, "The Color Purple: Black Women as Cultural Readers"
- Michael de Certeau, "Walking in the City"
- Ashish Rajadhyaksha, "The 'Bollywoodization' of the Indian Cinema"
- Donna Haraway, "A Cyborg Manifesto"
- Theodor Adorno and Max Horkheimer, "Enlightenment as Mass Deception"
- Walter Benjamin, "The Work of Art in the Age of Mechanical Reproduction"

Recommended Readings

Aims and Objectives
The course aims to make students aware of the diversity in literature written in English by introducing them to modern European literature. Students will engage with a wide variety of texts by European writers of the late 19th to early 20th century to gain an understanding of socio-cultural and continental influences in which texts are produced and received. The course objectives include encouraging students to read and analyze the texts in the light of wider global perspectives, using theoretical constructs relevant to the texts.

Intended Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

- develop and demonstrate an awareness of the significance of Continental literature in the global arena
- gain a comprehensive knowledge of post-world war conventions, conflicts and issues of Europe
- enhance their abilities of inter-textual analysis

Course Description and Content
The course teaches novel, drama and poetry written by the prominent writers of the modern and postmodern movements in Europe. It examines the different strategies used by the writers to portray the European sociocultural and political milieu. This course also highlights the underlying theoretical constructs and key issues of Absurdism, Existentialism, Surrealism, Hyperrealism, Futurism among others.

Texts covered in this course include:

- Henrik Ibsen, A Doll's House
- Charles Baudelaire, Selected Poems
- Franz Kafka, The Metamorphosis
- Albert Camus, The Outsider
- Luigi Pirandello, Six Characters in Search of an Author
- Eugene Ionesco, Rhinoceros
- Fyodor Dostoyevsky, Notes from the Underground
- Dario Fo, The Accidental Death of an Anarchist
- José Saramago, Blindness
- Federico García Lorca, Selected Poems

Recommended Readings
Aims and Objectives
This course aims to give students an in-depth view of a range of debates on gender prevailing in academia. While the course will encourage students to broadly question normative gender roles, it will also help students to distinguish the intersections of gender, race, class, religion, and geographical location. The course, therefore, introduces students to the works of women writers representing diverse cultures and concerns.

Intended Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the course, students will be able to:

- demonstrate an understanding of the gender debates and arguments articulated by the authors in the syllabus
- recognize the diversity amid the apparent unity that feminist authors represent
- recognize the intersections between feminism and postcolonialism
- make connections between the problems posed in the theoretical and the creative texts

Course Content and Description
The course contains theoretical and creative works on women's issues by writers from Africa, South Asia, Europe and North America. Even within the same geographical region, there are writers from different ethnicities. The writings range from the nineteenth century to contemporary times. The idea is to expose learners to as much diversity as possible to break away from the construct of feminism as a Western concern.
Selections from the following will be covered in class:

Critical Writings
- Simone de Beauvoir, The Second Sex (Introduction; Chapter XI – Myth and Reality)
- Helene Cixous, The Laugh of the Medusa (extract)
- Jane Flax, “Postmodernism and Gender Relations in Feminist Theory”
- Judith Butler, “Performative Acts and Gender Constitution”
- Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak, “Three Women's Texts and a Critique of Imperialism”
- bell hooks, “Postmodern Blackness”
- Carole Stabile, Feminism and the Technological Fix (extract)

Novels
- Virginia Woolf, Orlando
- Jean Rhys, Wide Sargasso Sea
- Bapsi Sidhwa, Ice Candy Man
- Ursula K. Le Guin, The Left Hand of Darkness

Short Stories
- Roquiah Sakhawat Hossein, Sultana's Dream
- Ama Ata Aidoo, “Lice”
- Charlotte Perkins Gilman, “The Yellow Wallpaper”
- Kate Chopin, “The Story of an Hour”
- Doris Lessing, “To Room Nineteen”
- Alice Walker, “The Abortion”
Poetry
Selections from:
Christina Rossetti
Maya Angelou
Adrienne Rich
Kamala Suraiya

Drama
Ntozake Shange, For Colored Girls Who Have Considered Suicide When the Rainbow Is Enuf

Memoir
Fatima Mernissi, Dreams of Trespass: Tales of a Harem Girlhood

Recommended Readings
Course Code : Eng. 511
Course Title : Translation Studies
Credits : 4
Full Marks : 100

Aims and Objectives
This course aims to introduce learners to the theory and practice of translation. It will also focus on the most significant developments in the history of the academic discipline of translation studies. Besides providing students with intellectual and philosophical insights into the practice of translation, this course intends to enhance learners' practical translation skills. It will require students to translate poetry, prose, drama extracts and non-literary texts from English to Bangla and vice versa.

Intended Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the course, the students should be able to:

- understand key concepts of translation studies as an academic discipline
- evaluate translated texts in the light of translation theories as well as issues such as gender, power relations and postcolonialism.
- put their theoretical knowledge into practice while translating texts from a source language to a target language

Course Content and Description
This course will cover two aspects of the art of translation: theory and practice. Through it students will become familiar with theoretical aspects of translation studies and receive practical training in translation by engaging in translating texts from English to Bangla and vice versa.
The contents of the course include:

- Types of translation
- Translation processes
- The unit of translation
- Equivalence in translation
- Text, genre and discourse shifts in translation
- Untranslatability
- Loss and gain in translation
- Agents of power in translation
- Ideology and translation
- History of translation theory
- Problems of translating prose, poetry and drama
- Evaluating translations of texts from English to Bangla and vice versa.
- Cultural translation
- Machine translation

Core Texts

The contents of the course include:

- Types of translation
- Translation processes
- The unit of translation
- Equivalence in translation
- Text, genre and discourse shifts in translation
- Untranslatability
- Loss and gain in translation
- Agents of power in translation
- Ideology and translation
- History of translation theory
- Problems of translating prose, poetry and drama
- Evaluating translations of texts from English to Bangla and vice versa.
- Cultural translation
- Machine translation

Core Texts

Recommended Reading

Course Code : Eng. 512
Course Title : Latin American Literature
Course Credit : 4
Full Marks : 100

Aims and Objectives

This course aims to introduce students to a range of texts by authors from Latin America. Learners will gain an understanding of how the legacy of colonialism is reflected in the region in the works of authors and be able to connect the texts with other postcolonial literatures. The course is designed to familiarize students with some of the problems and debates about Latin American history, society, and culture.
Intended Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the course, students will be able to:

- perceive the importance of literatures outside the British canon
- understand colonialism in its different manifestations and the postcolonial experience
- make connections between the Latin American situation and our own situation as a former colony
- recognize the narrative style and perspectives as distinct from Euro-centric and Western perspectives
- make connections between the texts of this course and the ideas of literary theories

Course Content and Description

Latin America is a region full of contrasts; its population is both racially and culturally heterogeneous. This course introduces students to a selection of poetry, novels, and prose pieces by Latin American authors, mostly belonging to the 20th century, that highlight this diversity and heterogeneity.

Texts

- Ruben Dario (Felix Ruben Garcia Sarmiento), Selected Poems (Translated and Edited by Lysander Kemp)
- Cesar Vallejo, Spain, Take This Cup from Me
- Pablo Neruda (Neftali Ricardo Reyes Basualto), Canto General (“The Heights of MacchuPichhu”)
- Miguel Angel Asturias, Mr. President
- Octavio Paz, Children of the Mire (“A Tradition Against Itself,” “Children of the Mire,” “The Pachuco and Other Extremes”)
Intended Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the course, students will be able to:

· perceive the importance of literatures outside the British canon
· understand colonialism in its different manifestations and the postcolonial experience
· make connections between the Latin American situation and our own situation as a former colony
· recognize the narrative style and perspectives as distinct from Euro-centric and Western perspectives
· make connections between the texts of this course and the ideas of literary theories

Course Content and Description

Latin America is a region full of contrasts; its population is both racially and culturally heterogeneous. This course introduces students to a selection of poetry, novels, and prose pieces by Latin American authors, mostly belonging to the 20th century, that highlight this diversity and heterogeneity.

Texts

- Ruben Dario (Felix Ruben Garcia Sarmiento), Selected Poems (Translated and Edited by Lysander Kemp)
- Cesar Vallejo, Spain, Take This Cup from Me
- Pablo Neruda (Neftali Ricardo Reyes Basualto), Canto General (The Heights of MacchuPichhu)
- Miguel Angel Asturias, Mr. President
- Octavio Paz, Children of the Mire (A Tradition Against Itself, Children of the Mire, The Pachuco and Other Extremes)
- Clarice Lispector, Family Ties (Selected Stories)
- Gabriel Garcia Marquez, One Hundred Years of Solitude
- Mario Vargas Llosa, The Storyteller
- Isabel Allende, House of Spirits

Recommended Readings

Aims and Objectives

The course aims to introduce students to a wide variety of texts by South Asian writers to make them aware of the significance of cultural and contextual influences on literary texts. It aims to sensitize students to the underlying theoretical constructs such as postcolonialism and nationalism in South Asian literature. It will provide them an opportunity to explore key issues such as, diaspora, gender, class and caste, which are overarching concerns in many of the texts.

Intended Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the course students will be able to:

- read and respond to texts critically, showing an awareness of how writers use and adapt language, form and structure to create meaning in texts
- demonstrate understanding of the socio cultural and political contexts in which texts have been produced and received
- read and analyze texts in the light of contemporary literary theories that are relevant to the issues raised in the texts

Course Content and Description

The course introduces students to a selection of poetry, novels and prose pieces to enable them to explore the widening sphere of literature in English in South Asia. It examines the different strategies used by the writers to portray the South Asian socio-cultural and political milieu.
Poetry
A selection of poems from South Asian countries taken from The Arnold Anthology of Post-Colonial Literatures (ed. John Thieme), as well as other anthologies of poetry (Nissim Ezekiel till today) including selections from Kaiser Haq: Published in the Streets of Dhaka.

Extracts and Short Pieces
- Nirad C. Chaudhuri, “My Birthplace” (from The Autobiography of an Unknown Indian)
- Satyajit Ray, “Big Bill”
- Rohinton Mistry, “The Collectors”
- Amit Chaudhuri, “Sandeep's Visit” (extract from the novella A Strange and Sublime Address)
- Vikram Seth, “A Suitable Boy” (extract from A Suitable Boy)
- Jhumpa Lahiri, Selected stories from Interpreter of Maladies

Novels
- Syed Walliullah, Tree Without Roots
- Mulk Raj Anand, Untouchable
- Amitav Ghosh, The Shadow Lines
- Arundhati Roy, The God of Small Things

Recommended Readings

Course Code : Eng. 514
Course Title : Research Methods in Literature
Course Credit : 4
Full Marks : 100

Only students obtaining a grade of B+ and above in B.A. (Hons.) will be eligible to take this course.

Aims and Objectives
This course will introduce students to research strategies and methods for finding various materials (primary and secondary sources) in various formats (print, digital, film etc) and incorporating them in their research. The course will focus on locating, evaluating, selecting and using primary and secondary materials within a theoretical framework to find an answer to the research question. The course will equip the students practically and theoretically for this.

Intended Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the course, students will be able to:
- understand key concepts in theory and research, and the process of conducting research
- explore the prevalent theoretical and practical research methods in literary studies
- find, evaluate and analyze sources of information
- write an abstract and do a literature review
- integrate critical and literary theories in their research
- develop referencing skills
- write a research paper
- understand the concept and dangers of plagiarism
- present their research before an audience
- understand the importance of publishing and learn how to find a proper home for the paper

Course Content and Description
This course will help the learners to carry out research on a selected topic. The aim will be to ultimately produce a 4000 word research paper of publishable quality and to identify appropriate publication avenues. Learners will go through the process of locating and collecting information, documenting, building arguments, drafting and redrafting while writing the research paper.

The following will be covered in the course:
- What is research?
- Types of research (qualitative, quantitative, archival research, interdisciplinary research, digital humanities)
- Conducting research: the role of a researcher
- Ethics of research
- Understanding and avoiding plagiarism
- Choosing the appropriate research topic (focus, conceptualization); Generating research questions
- Accessing information (using the library, reference books, internet etc.)
- Writing an abstract with key words
- Writing a research proposal
- Understanding different parts of a research paper
Literature review
Collecting and analyzing primary and secondary sources (interviews, textual criticism)
Making a working bibliography
Using quotations, paraphrasing, summarizing in the appropriate manner
Referencing (e.g. in-text citation, works cited, bibliography in MLA format, footnotes, endnotes, appendices etc.)
Making a presentation

30 marks of the course will be reserved for the research paper, 10 marks for attendance and presentation, and 60 marks for the final exam.

Recommended Readings
Aims and Objectives
This course aims to introduce students to African and Caribbean literature with an eye to creating an awareness of the broadening spheres of literature in English. In addition, the course intends to help students move away from dominant Eurocentric and Western perspectives and appreciate Africa-centered perspectives on culture and literature. It aims to create an awareness of the relationships between history, theory and literary production in Africa and in the Caribbean region using contemporary theories, for instance, post-colonialism, Marxism, feminism, post-structuralism and others.

Intended Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the course, students will be able to:

• critically analyze the language, form and perspectives of different genres of literary texts from African and Caribbean literary traditions
• demonstrate an understanding of the socio-cultural and political contexts in which the texts have been produced and received
• critically engage with the literary texts in the light of colonial and postcolonial histories and contemporary theories that are relevant to the issues raised in the texts

Course Content and Description
This course introduces students to a new and wide range of genres of contemporary African and Caribbean literature. Students will study short stories, novels, plays, and poetry produced by prominent African and Caribbean writers.
Selections from the following will be covered in class:

Novels, Plays, and Short Stories
- Wole Soyinka, The Strong Breed/ The Road/ The Lion and the Jewel
- Chinua Achebe, A Man of the People/ Anthills of the Savannah
- Ngũgĩ wa Thiong'o, Petals of Blood
- J. M. Coetzee, Waiting for the Barbarians/ Foe
- Nuruddin Farah, Sweet and Sour Milk
- Nadine Gordimer, July's People
- Alex La Guma, Time of the Butcherbird
- Ama Ata Aidoo, The Girl Who Can and Other Stories (Selections)
- Ayi Kwei Armah, The Beautiful Ones Are Not Yet Born
- Aime Cesaire, Discourse on Colonialism

Poetry
- Christopher Okigbo, Selections from Labyrinth
- Derek Walcott, “A Far Cry from Africa,” “The Castaway,” “The Flock,” “Mass Man”
- Edward Kamau Brathwaite, Selections from Days and Nights, Black and Blues, Mother Poem

Recommended Readings
MA in Applied Linguistics and ELT Programme
The Masters in Applied Linguistics & ELT programme of the Department of English, University of Dhaka was introduced in 1987. This programme is designed after the graduate programmes of UK and US universities. It is comprehensive and has drawn on core courses of Applied Linguistics, Education, Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) and English language Teaching (ELT).

The programme is a combination of two strands – Applied Linguistics and ELT. The aims of the programme are two-fold:

1. Providing learners with a general grounding in major theoretical concepts, principles, issues and current debates in Applied Linguistics and ELT.
2. Enabling learners to link theory to practice.

Learners are provided with knowledge, opportunities and experiences which will enable them to develop as ELT professionals. The focus is on grooming autonomous learners who can take charge of their own learning. In addition, team building, leadership and critical thinking skills are nurtured. The goal is to prepare learners for effective teaching in a variety of national contexts and at all levels of education as well as to open up opportunities for the global job market.

Aims and Objectives of MA in Applied Linguistics and ELT Programme

Aims: The broad aim of the programme is to develop an understanding of key concepts and the theoretical framework that underpins the professional, academic and research literature that is relevant to the field of Applied Linguistics, Education, English Language Teaching and TESOL. In addition, the programme will help gain insights into a range of perspectives on the theory, policy and practice of ELT.

Objectives: The main objective of this programme is to develop knowledge and expertise required for the teaching of English as a second/foreign language at all levels of study. A significant offshoot is the development of teacher trainers, curriculum developers, syllabus and materials writers, testers, evaluators, managers and educational researchers.

Syllabus: M.A. in Applied Linguistics and English Language Teaching

Courses Offered

Semester I: Four 4-credit courses each of 100 marks + one 1-credit course of 25 marks

Compulsory Courses
- EL 501: English Phonetics and Phonology
- EL 502: Principles and Methods of Language Teaching
- EL 503: Second Language Acquisition (SLA)

Optional Courses (Students will choose one from the options below:)
- EL 504(A): Pragmatics and Discourse Analysis
- EL 504(B): Integrating Technology in the Language Classroom

Semester II: Four 4-credit courses each of 100 marks + one 1-credit course of 25 marks

Compulsory Courses
- EL 505: Syllabus Design and Materials Development
- EL 506: Language Testing, Evaluation and Assessment
- EL 507: Language Teacher Development and Practicum
Optional Courses (Students will choose one from the options below.)

EL 508(A): Research Methodology
EL 508(B): English in Diverse World Contexts

*Optional courses will be offered subject to the availability of instructors and enrolment of at least 15 students per course.

One Credit courses: Each 1-credit course will be of 25 marks

EL 509 (I): Presentation and Viva (Presentation 10 Marks and Viva Voce 15 Marks)
EL 509 (II): Presentation and Viva (Presentation 10 Marks and Viva Voce = 15 Marks)

(Marks will be submitted and recorded in both semesters but added to the final results after second semester.)

SEMESTER I

Course Code : EL 501
Course Title : English Phonetics and Phonology
Credits : 4
Full Marks : 100

Aims and Objectives
The primary aim of this course is to develop students' understanding of the structure and the articulation of English speech sounds, with reference to phonological theories and with an emphasis on how the speech sounds work in both native and non-native speech in formal and informal contexts. It also intends to develop students' ability to transcribe speech using the IPA. Additionally, it aims to make learners aware of teaching pronunciation to EFL/ESL students with a particular focus on the Bangla speaking EFL learners.

Intended Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

- develop an understanding of the use of different speech organs and apply that awareness to their own speech
- distinguish between formal and informal as well as native and multilingual English speech
- transcribe English speech using the IPA with proper stress and intonation marks
- identify problems of Bangla-speaking learners of English, draw pedagogical implications and design activities for EFL/ESL learners

Course Contents

- Phonemes, phones and allophones
- Phonological theories: Daniel Jones, Bloomfield and the Bloomfieldians, the Prague School
- Generative phonology
- Minimal pairs, complementary distribution and free variation
- Organs of speech or articulators
- Categorisation of speech sound segments
- English short, long vowels and diphthongs
- Consonant phonemes and their places and manners of articulation
- Phonetic and phonological characteristics of English consonant phonemes
- English syllable structure and phonotactics
• Strong and weak syllables
• Suprasegmental phenomena: Stress and intonation
• Aspects of connected speech
• Transcription using the IPA
• Pronunciation problems of Bangla-speaking EFL learners
• Teaching pronunciation of English as an International Language: Issues of attitudes, intelligibility and identity

Core Texts

Recommended Readings
Course Code : EL 502
Course Title : Principles and Methods of Language Teaching
Credits : 4
Full Marks : 100

Aims and Objectives
This course aims to introduce learners to Applied Linguistics and mainstream educational thoughts and theories that have influenced English Language Teaching (ELT). Learners will explore ELT theories and their rationale and learn to make connections in order to take informed decisions about context-appropriate classroom teaching.

Intended Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

• understand the relationship and interdependence of language teaching practices and theory
• construct a suitable framework for teaching English as a foreign or second language
• explore the prevalent ELT approaches and methods in relation to teacher roles, learner roles, materials, assessment and context
• connect the social context with the choice of methods and techniques

Course Contents
• Interdependence of language teaching theories and practices
• Conceptual frameworks of language teaching
• Emerging relationship of linguistic theory and language teaching
• Evaluation of language teaching theories
• Educational interpretation of language teaching
- The roles of teachers, learners, materials and techniques in prevalent approaches and methods
- Context-appropriate pedagogy
- Communicative approach to ELT and its applications
- Task based approaches to language teaching
- The post methods era: Breaking with the method concept
- Critical pedagogy

Core Texts

Recommended Readings

Course Code : EL 503
Course Title : Second Language Acquisition
Credits : 4
Full marks : 100

Aims and Objectives
This course aims to introduce students to the key concepts and issues in Second Language Acquisition (SLA). It also explores a variety of first and second language acquisition theories that help to understand how learners learn a second language. This course will enable learners to connect second language acquisition theories to their own leaning experiences and educational contexts.

Intended Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:
- examine different approaches to second language acquisition in diverse contexts
- gain a thorough understanding of learner factors that influence the course of second language development
• analyse their own language learning experiences in light of the theories
• use knowledge gained in the course to critically assess professional practice in their own discipline
• develop ability to read and utilize relevant SLA research

Course Contents
• Brief overview of the history of research in Second Language Acquisition
• Key concepts and issues in SLA
• Role of L1 in SLA
• Individual learner differences in SLA: Age, aptitude, cognitive style, motivation and personality
• Theories of language learning: Behaviorism, innatism, maturation and cognitive theories of learning
  ▪ Theories of second language acquisition: The acculturation model, accommodation theory, the monitor model, and interlanguage theory
  ▪ Universal Grammar (UG)
  ▪ The description of learner language – Error analysis
  ▪ Classroom second language acquisition: The role of input, interaction and feedback
  ▪ Learning styles and language learning strategies
  ▪ Learner autonomy and learner training
  ▪ Multiple intelligences and language learning
  ▪ Current trends in SLA research: Cognitive approaches, socio-cultural perspectives on SLA

Core Texts
analyse their own language learning experiences in light of the theories use knowledge gained in the course to critically assess professional practice in their own discipline
develop ability to read and utilize relevant SLA research

Course Contents
- Brief overview of the history of research in Second Language Acquisition
- Key concepts and issues in SLA
- Role of L1 in SLA
- Individual learner differences in SLA: Age, aptitude, cognitive style, motivation and personality
- Theories of language learning: Behaviorism, innatism, maturation and cognitive theories of learning
- Theories of second language acquisition: The acculturation model, accommodation theory, the monitor model, and interlanguage theory
- Universal Grammar (UG)
- The description of learner language – Error analysis
- Classroom second language acquisition: The role of input, interaction and feedback
- Learning styles and language learning strategies
- Learner autonomy and learner training
- Multiple intelligences and language learning
- Current trends in SLA research: Cognitive approaches, socio-cultural perspectives on SLA

Recommended Readings

Course Code : EL 504 (A)
Course Title : Pragmatics and Discourse Analysis
Credits : 4
Full Marks : 100

Aims and Objectives
This course aims to introduce learners to key concepts and issues in pragmatics and discourse analysis. It also intends to develop an understanding of the theoretical principles and processes underlying the analysis of discourse. It will give students an opportunity to explore different approaches to the analysis of written and spoken texts and gain an understanding of language in use.

Intended Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:
- understand the theories, principles and concepts in pragmatics and discourse analysis
• identify and analyse the features of spoken and written discourse
• explore and examine the contextual factors that influence text production and reception
• show understanding of socially-situated language use
• appreciate the power dimensions of language use

Course Contents
• Definition and scope of pragmatics and discourse analysis
• Features of spoken and written discourse
• Speech Act theory: Austin and Searle
• Discourse processing and discourse comprehension
• Context of situation
• Cooperative principle, presupposition, inference and implicature in discourse
• Rhetorical organization of texts (theme / rheme, text types)
• Conversational analysis and preference structure
• Politeness theories
• Classroom discourse analysis
• Critical discourse analysis

Core Texts
Course Contents

- Definition and scope of pragmatics and discourse analysis
- Features of spoken and written discourse
- Speech Act theory: Austin and Searle
- Discourse processing and discourse comprehension
- Context of situation
- Cooperative principle, presupposition, inference and implicature in discourse
- Rhetorical organization of texts (theme / rheme, text types)
- Conversational analysis and preference structure
- Politeness theories
- Classroom discourse analysis
- Critical discourse analysis

Core Texts

Recommended Readings

Course Code : EL504 (B)
Course Title : Integrating Technology in the Language Classroom
Credits : 4
Full Marks : 100

Aims and Objectives

This course aims to engage students in a critical examination of theoretical, practical and pedagogical issues related to the role and use of technology in language classrooms. The course focuses on relevant research, theory and issues of debate regarding the use of technology in language learning and teaching. Learners will develop necessary skills and knowledge to critically evaluate, design and use a range of technologies in their classrooms.

Intended Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

- Understand the relationship between methodological approaches to the teaching of a second language and the use of technology.
- Integrate technology in language teaching and learning.
- familiarise with recent research, theory and issues of debate in the field of Technology Enhanced Language Learning.
- Critically evaluate the application of technology with respect to different contextual factors (learner needs, predominant methodological paradigms, infrastructure, cultural setting)

Course Contents

- Pedagogy on technology enhanced language classrooms
- The nature of reading in a digital world and the development of reading skills through the use of computer-based tasks and the WWW
- Computer based and networked writing development developing vocabulary with technology
- Developing listening and speaking with technology
- Language learning and Web 2.0
- Synchronous and asynchronous computer mediated communication for language learning
- Multimedia learning theories

Core Texts

familiarise with recent research, theory and issues of debate in the field of Technology Enhanced Language Learning.

Critically evaluate the application of technology with respect to different contextual factors (learner needs, predominant methodological paradigms, infrastructure, cultural setting).

Course Contents
- Pedagogy on technology enhanced language classrooms
- The nature of reading in a digital world and the development of reading skills through the use of computer-based tasks and the WWW
- Computer based and networked writing development developing vocabulary with technology
- Developing listening and speaking with technology
- Language learning and Web 2.0
- Synchronous and asynchronous computer mediated communication for language learning
- Multimedia learning theories

Core Texts

Recommended Readings
Aims and Objectives
The course aims to introduce learners to issues and concepts related to syllabus design and materials development. It focuses on providing learners with the knowledge and necessary skills for designing and evaluating syllabuses and language teaching materials. Theoretical insights, principles and recent developments in this field are also emphasized upon.

Intended Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

- know the different types of syllabus, the stages of syllabus design and differentiate between syllabus and curriculum
- understand the issues of syllabus design and materials development
- comprehend practical, social and theoretical factors affecting ELT materials development and syllabus design
- evaluate, select and implement appropriate ELT syllabuses and materials.
- conduct needs analysis and design suitable syllabuses and materials
Aims and Objectives
The course aims to introduce learners to issues and concepts related to syllabus design and materials development. It focuses on providing learners with the knowledge and necessary skills for designing and evaluating syllabuses and language teaching materials. Theoretical insights, principles and recent developments in this field are also emphasized upon.

Intended Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:
· know the different types of syllabus, the stages of syllabus design and differentiate between syllabus and curriculum
· understand the issues of syllabus design and materials development
· comprehend practical, social and theoretical factors affecting ELT materials development and syllabus design
· evaluate, select and implement appropriate ELT syllabuses and materials.
· conduct needs analysis and design suitable syllabuses and materials

Course Contents
- Definition and scope of syllabus and curriculum
- Types of syllabus: Structural, situational, notional functional, task based, skill based and content based syllabuses
- Factors and steps involved in syllabus and curriculum design
- Syllabus evaluation and design
- Designing syllabuses for students of different levels
- Theories and principles of ELT materials design
- Evaluation and adaptation of ELT materials
- Designing materials for teaching the four language skills
- Use of technology in materials design

Core Texts

Recommended Readings
Aims and Objectives
This course aims to introduce learners to key concepts and issues in testing, assessment and evaluation. It will also focus on developing an understanding of the theoretical principles and processes underlying test construction as well as the practical skills required for the design, construction, administration, assessment and evaluation of English language tests and programmes. In addition, the course will address the most recent trends and developments in the field of assessment.

Intended Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

- understand the theoretical principles which underlie the construction of reliable and valid tests
- understand the processes involved in designing, administering and evaluating language tests and programmes
- design and administer valid and reliable tests
- score exam scripts and interpret test results efficiently
- evaluate critically different language tests and programmes
- use different formats/techniques of assessment to ensure optimal achievement

Course Contents
- Introduction to testing, assessment and evaluation
- Basic concepts and issues in language testing
- Types of tests (proficiency, achievement, diagnostic, placement)
- Approaches to language testing (Direct vs indirect; criterion-referenced vs norm-referenced; discrete point vs integrative; objective vs subjective)
- Test formats/ Common test techniques
- Item writing and moderation
- Test construction and evaluation
- Testing the language skills: Reading, writing, speaking and listening
- Testing vocabulary and grammar
- Grading tests and interpretation of results
- Test administration.
- Communicative language testing
- Evaluation of tests and programme evaluation
- Current issues in language testing research (alternative assessment, authentic assessment, portfolio assessment)
- Computerized testing
- National and international tests (SSC, HSC, BCS, IELTS, TOEFL, GRE)
- Critical language testing
Core Texts

Recommended Readings
Course Code  : EL 507
Course Title  : Language Teacher Development and Practicum
Credits  : 4
Full Marks  : 100

Aims and Objectives
The overall aim of this course is to provide an introduction to the principles and practice of language teacher education. It also focuses on the debates about the nature of teaching and teacher development and the relationship between theory and practice in education.

The practicum component will focus on classroom practices; practical application of SLA theories and ELT methodologies; observation of language classes; micro teaching/simulation; lesson/materials preparation and self-evaluation.

Intended Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

- understand the nature and needs of teacher education
- realize the importance of planning a lesson
- evaluate the examples of current language teacher education programmes
- specify the purposes of classroom observation
- demonstrate understanding of pre-service and in-service teacher training programmes
- understand the constructivist, humanistic and reflective approaches to teacher education
Course Contents

- Current models and theories of teacher education
- Beliefs, maxims and experiences of teacher development
- Pre-service and in-service teacher education
- Teacher as a reflective practitioner
- Teacher as a researcher
- Supervision, evaluation, monitoring and mentoring
- Review of skills teaching
- Current methodologies in ELT
- Managing change and innovation in language teaching
- Lesson planning
- Microteaching and practicum

Core Texts

Recommended Readings

Course Contents

- Current models and theories of teacher education
- Beliefs, maxims and experiences of teacher development
- Pre-service and in-service teacher education
- Teacher as a reflective practitioner
- Teacher as a researcher
- Supervision, evaluation, monitoring and mentoring
- Review of skills teaching
- Current methodologies in ELT
- Managing change and innovation in language teaching
- Lesson planning
- Microteaching and practicum

Core Texts

Recommended Readings

- Koki, S., The Role of Teacher Mentoring in Educational Reform. PREL.

Chapter three. pp. 46-64.
Course Code : EL 508 (A)
Course Title : Research Methodology
Credits : 4
Full Marks : 100

Aims and Objectives
This course aims to introduce students to key concepts and issues in educational research. It also focuses on developing a clear understanding of approaches, methods and processes involved in Applied Linguistics and ELT research. The overall objective of this course is to impart students with theoretical knowledge and empirical skills to do independent research, write and evaluate research reports.

Intended Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

- understand key concepts and issues in educational research
- understand the process of conducting research
- explore the prevalent research methods in education
- understand literature review and do a review of literature
- understand research instruments and data elicitation techniques
- analyze and interpret various data
- report and evaluate research

Course Contents

- Definition of research; its characteristics and importance
- The process of research using quantitative and qualitative approaches
Aims and Objectives
This course aims to introduce students to key concepts and issues in educational research. It also focuses on developing a clear understanding of approaches, methods and processes involved in Applied Linguistics and ELT research. The overall objective of this course is to impart students with theoretical knowledge and empirical skills to do independent research, write and evaluate research reports.

Intended Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:
· understand key concepts and issues in educational research
· understand the process of conducting research
· explore the prevalent research methods in education
· understand literature review and do a review of literature
· understand research instruments and data elicitation techniques
· analyze and interpret various data
· report and evaluate research

Course Contents
· Definition of research; its characteristics and importance
· The process of research using quantitative and qualitative approaches
· Identification of the research problem
· Review of literature
· Purpose statements, research questions, and hypotheses
· Research ethics, reliability and validity
· Quantitative research and data collection
· Analyzing data, reporting and interpreting quantitative results
· Qualitative research and data collection
· Analyzing data, reporting and interpreting qualitative results
· Reporting and evaluating research
· Research designs: survey designs; experimental designs; ethnographic designs; mixed methods designs; and action research designs

Core Texts

Recommended Readings
EL508 (B): English in Diverse World Contexts

Aims and Objectives
The course focuses on the development and spread of English as a global Language. It surveys the social and linguistic characteristics and roles of English in societies around the world. It examines the status of English in diverse world contexts and its socio-political and educational implications.

Intended Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the course, students will be able to:

- Examine the linguistic characteristics of the new Englishes.
- Understand the roles played by different varieties of English in different contexts.
- Comprehend the debates and discussions surrounding the spread of English.
- Reflect on English language education in the light of current theory and research in world Englishes.

Course Contents
- English as an International Language – historical, political, economic and cultural reasons
- Spread of English in the world – Kachru's and McArthur's models
- Functions and status of English world-wide
- Linguistic characteristics of New Englishes (Nigerian, Singaporean and South Asian Englishes)
- Standard English debate

- Linguistic imperialism
- English as a Lingua Franca (ELF)
- Multilingual language use: Linguistic hybridity, style and identity
- Implications for English Language Teaching
- Future of English

Core Texts

Recommended Readings
Aims and Objectives
The main goals of presentation in this course are to introduce the students to the basics of presentations, different techniques of preparing multimedia presentations and enhance their presentation skills for academic purposes. There will be an oral examination at the end of each semester. The objectives of the oral examination are to assess students' knowledge and understanding of the concepts, issues, and theories they are expected to learn from the courses offered in each semester. The examination committee will hold the viva-voce at the end of the semester final examination.

Intended Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the course, students will be able to:
- understand the features of a good presentation
- prepare interactive multimedia presentations
- enhance their presentation skills
- boost their confidence to face an interview board
- develop their oral skills to express and analyse a concept clearly

Course Contents
- Features of a good presentation
- Interactive power point presentations
The main goals of presentation in this course are to introduce the students to the basics of presentations, different techniques of preparing multimedia presentations and enhance their presentation skills for academic purposes. There will be an oral examination at the end of each semester. The objectives of the oral examination are to assess students' knowledge and understanding of the concepts, issues, and theories they are expected to learn from the courses offered in each semester. The examination committee will hold the viva-voce at the end of the semester final examination.

Intended Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the course, students will be able to:

- understand the features of a good presentation
- prepare interactive multimedia presentations
- enhance their presentation skills
- boost their confidence to face an interview board
- develop their oral skills to express and analyse a concept clearly

Course Contents

- Features of a good presentation
- Interactive power point presentations
- Techniques/strategies of making good presentations
- Giving multimedia presentations

Recommended Readings

Online resources, sample presentations on Youtube, TedTalks will be explored by the students.

Course Code : EL 509 (II)
Course Title : Presentation and Viva-Voce
Course Credit : 1
Full Marks : 25

This course is same as EL 509 (I).
PHOTO GALLERY

Book Launch Ceremony 2017

Classroom Presentation 2017
PHOTO GALLERY

Book Launch Ceremony 2017
Classroom Presentation 2017
IQAC Workshop 2017
Academic Committee Meeting
With Prof. David Crystal at IATEFL Conf., Glasgow, UK, 2017
With JJ Wilson at IATEFL Conference, Glasgow, UK, 2017
Engrossed Audience at a Department Programme
At IATEFL Conference, Glasgow, UK, 2017

Women’s Day Celebration 2017
After a Faculty Development Seminar
Scholarship Ceremony

PhD Seminar 2018

Presenting at 8th BELTA International Conference 2018

Faculty Development Lecture
Engrossed Audience at a Department Programme

Women’s Day Celebration 2017

After a Faculty Development Seminar

Scholarship Ceremony
Whose woods these are I think I know.
His house is in the village though;
He will not see me stopping here
To watch his woods fill up with snow.

My little horse must think it queer
To stop without a farmhouse near
Between the woods and frozen lake
The darkest evening of the year.

He gives his harness bells a shake
To ask if there is some mistake.
The only other sound’s the sweep
Of easy wind and downy flake.

The woods are lovely, dark and deep,
But I have promises to keep,
And miles to go before I sleep,
And miles to go before I sleep.